Kilauea's Turn Will Come. Strange Things Men Do. Ford Fears Golf. One Modern Killing.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1929, King Features Synd., Inc.

KILAUEA, Hawaii, earth's biggest busy volcano, was in eruption yesterday, sending flames 350 feet high from a pit 1800 feet across.

In the ancient days the natives looked in horror at these eruptions, wondered what particular god had been offended, and who, if anybody, should be sacrificed to please that god.

And once upon a time inhabitants of all this earth looked up from under their shaggy eyebrows in superstitious terror at the flashing lightning.

Now they have that lightning busy, running vacuum cleaners, washing machines and electric fans.

Some day every volcano will be put to work, its fury transformed to power.

The Italians are doing it already, on a small scale.

In years to come, before Kilauea fades out, its gigantic volcanic heat will be transformed into power, sent by wireless to airplanes flying overhead, on their way across the Pacific.

We, living, may not see that, but Kilauea will see it.

Who can predict in this strange world what will happen, what unexpected things men will do. In Croatia, four bandits were sentenced to hang. The hangman lost his nerve, couldn't go on with his work. The man that was to die next put the rope on his own neck, touched the spring, went through the trap and was killed. Is that the height of callousness, courage or courtesy?

Henry Ford, at work with Thomas A. Edison on automatic machinery for manufacturing automobile parts, says the automobile industry is cheerful, and he is turning out 7000 cars a day.

He uses 800 men to make 540,000 automobile parts a day, and hopes to reduce the number.

Ford, like others, hopes that Lindbergh will stop flying and work on the ground. But Lindbergh smiles and hops off for a trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific, inspecting landing fields for the part rail, part airplane program of the Pennsylvania and Santa Fe railroads.

Ford says golf is "causing more heart trouble than any other one thing."

Wall Street thinks that 12 per cent call money is worse than golf.

Mr. Ford thinks "Americans are too well educated to participate in another war."

Archimedes was quite well educated. Ford would have liked him and his wonderful inventions as much as he likes Edison. But when the war and soldiers came along, education didn't save Archimedes from being knocked on the head.

Men kill cold-bloodedly in our bandit-bootleg-prohibition age.

Bernard Levine, under-sized, 19 years old, was eating with friends in the "Pleasant Restaurant" at 2 in the morning, when a stranger said, "Come on outside, I want to talk to you."

Outside a cab was waiting; the stranger said, "We are going to take you for a ride."

The doomed youth, who knew what that meant, pleaded "for God's sake, give me a chance. I am only a kid."

Someone inside the cab laughed and gave the order, "Give him the works, the damned little brat."

In a moment Levine was writhing on the sidewalk, a bullet in his spine, was soon dead.

The police say Isidore Sanoff, arrested in bed, confessed the murder. His brother, Edward, drove the taxicab.

Unless they get a good lawyer, the killers may be punished.

President John Quincy Adams and John Adams, both Presidents of the United States, would read this paragraph with interest:

Charles Francis Adams of Boston, great-grandson of John Quincy Adams, is to be Mr. Hoover's Secretary of the Navy, so says Washington.

It would interest those old Presidents also to see the kind of navy that their descendant will manage for Mr. Hoover.

They would be surprised to see gigantic floating forts of steel protected by submarines under the water and machines flying in the air above them.

Speculators found that they could borrow money at 6 per cent again yesterday "on call." And when the Wall Streeter homeward plodded his weary way there were plus signs scattered all up and down the list of stocks. It's hard to convince the people that a nation with 100 billions a year income is really hard up.

ARREST IN CHICAGO DEATHS

Chicago, Feb. 21 (AP)—"Nosey Joe" Lewis, with prison records in Illinois and Leavenworth, has been arrested in Detroit in connection with Chicago's gang massacre.

A "murder map" was found in his pocket. It diagramed territory along the Lake Michigan shore contiguous to the North Clark Street Garage in which the seven gangsters were executed just a week ago.

The arrest was made after "Nosey Joe," or George A. Lewis, as he identified himself, was overheard to say he had "bumped off a party in Chicago," a murder charge was placed against him at the request of Chicago authorities.

An assistant State's attorney and a Chicago police lieutenant, left immediately for Detroit. Besides

$8,000,000 Verdict Against the Duke Estate Upset

Philadelphia, Feb. 21 (AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals today set aside the $8,000,000 verdict against the estate of James B. Duke, tobacco magnate, in the suit brought by George D. Haskell, president of the Haskell Machine & Tool Co. of Springfield, Mass.

Haskell sued for $45,000,000 under the anti-trust laws, charging that Duke broke a contract with him for the manufacture of aluminum in Canada and went over to the Aluminum Company of America.

Reno, Nev., Feb. 21 (INS)—Mrs. Louise Dubois Ten Eyck has filed suit here for a divorce against James E. Ten Eyck, son of the famous rowing coach. She charged cruelty.

Mrs. F. A. K. Carter, said to be the wife of a White Sox baseball player, is here for the reported purpose of filing a divorce suit.

POLICE AID IN BLAZE RESCUES

Five men were carried to safety over firemen's ladders early today when flames swept the Winthrop Building in Maverick sq., East Boston, menacing many building in a thickly settled residential and business district.

Three of the men, all members of the Aurora Club which had its quarters on the top floor of the building, clung to narrow window ledges until assistance arrived, after they found escape through the hallway blocked by flames and smoke.

Several members of the Coleman Club, located on the same floor of the building, a three-story granite

HEAVIEST SNOWFALL OF SEASON RAGING FROM COAST TO LAKES

Several thousand city and town laborers, steam railroad workmen and Boston Elevated employes started removing snow in Greater Boston today, as the Weather Bureau predicted that the storm, driven by a strong northeast wind, would last well into the night and lay a foot-deep blanket of white in this vicinity.

Shipping in the harbor was seriously handicapped by the fog-like effect of the swirling flakes, and land transportation was threatened with long delays.

The weather forecaster promised the heaviest snowfall and most severe storm of the winter.

Boston augmented its snow-shoveling force of 1000 with an additional 1000 workmen furnished by contractors, and ordered out 145 snow-removal trucks and a score of wagons, holding 50 more trucks in reserve.

The first accident of the storm was caused by one of these trucks when it forced Edward J. Welsh, 59, of Sharon st., South End, a snow-shoveler, over the edge of the wall and into Ft. Point channel.

Welsh swam to a ladder. Andrew Kelley of Worcester st. and Traffic Officer Robert Warren descended the ladder and helped Welsh up. He was taken to the Relief hospital, suffering apparently only from bruises and immersion.

STORM IS WIDESPREAD.

Snow began falling here soon after daybreak and the storm rapidly increased in intensity as the wind gathered force.

By that time it had already laid a five-inch snow carpet on New York city, where ocean liners were reported overdue and street traffic

GIRL WITNESS DENIES GALLO COMPANIONSHIP

Denial that she had been "an almost daily companion" of Samuel Gallo from July, 1928, into 1927, was made today by Miss Philomena Romano in superior court, where Gallo is on trial for the murder of Joseph Fantasia, the girl's brother-in-law.

Under cross-examination by William H. McSweeney, chief defense counsel for Gallo, the girl refused to answer a question as to whether she ever had lived with Gallo.

Judge Cox instructed Miss Romano here as to her rights and told her she might refuse to answer on the ground that her answer might incriminate her.

COUNTRY DOCTOR SUFFERS AFTER COMPROMISE ON DOPE CHARGE

WHISPERED RUMORS LEAD TO LOSS OF PRACTICE

He had better, he declares now, have gone into the courts to fight the charges and accept any penalty imposed rather than attempt to hush up the matter.

He purchased a clean bill of health and secrecy from the Government at one of its bargain day sales.

His is but one of the 7000 cases, the Examiner has learned, compromised by the Government without public hearing during the last five years.

But the compromise he effected backfired.

There was no open hearing and no publicity—

But the physician declares he has been practically ruined financially and professionally in his little country community because—

He never had a day in court

He had no opportunity to defend himself.

TWISTED TALE

His neighbors, his business and professional associates have had whispered to them a terribly contorted tale of the charges he faced.

They have heard the physician himself is a narcotic addict.

They never heard the real story of the doctor's "jam with the Government."

By word of mouth the tale was whispered that "the law" was after the country doctor. His name is being withheld by the Examiner at his request in order that he will suffer no further injustice. With this condition imposed, he freely told all the facts in the case.

Investigators visited his offices several times and made inquiries at various drug stores. Local representatives of the law were called in one occasion. The physician was compelled to make a couple of trips to Los Angeles.

INTERPRET FACTS

That is all the villagers knew.

They put their own fantastic construction upon the facts.

And soon the word went about that, the doctor, who had practiced in the community for 10 years and the three previous years in a nearby village, himself was a "hype."

At the time the rumors began to spread, the doctor was employed by approximately 20 companies besides the little city itself, attending principally to accident cases.

Several of the companies dropped him from their pay roll and his private practice fell off.

His "cash and carry compromise" is delivering an endless number of patientless days to his office and sleepless nights in his home.

Prescription Copies Not Kept, Say Investigators

His was the case of a "technical violation," so the Department of Internal Revenue invoked "a purely revenue measure," the Harrison act, with which to punish him.

Federal investigators observed an unusually large number of prescriptions for narcotics dribbling into the drug stores of the doctor's village.

He does not admit that the number was unnecessarily large. He wrote many prescriptions, he says, because he frequently needed a drug to aid him in dressing injuries received by the army of workmen for the companies that employed him.

The government charges that the physician wrote fake addresses upon some of the prescriptions.

He replies that when an injured man was brought to him for treatment he merely wrote the address given by the man or those who brought him.

The physician kept no duplicate copies of the prescriptions he wrote, the investigators declare.

ADMITS WRONG

The charge is true, the doctor admits.

He pleads ignorance of that clause in the law, recognizing of course, that his ignorance is no defense.

He goes still further, and admits still more.

In all the 17 years he has been practicing medicine in California, he says, he had never made a copy of a narcotic prescription.

Considered Paper an Admission of Guilt

He construed it to mean, if he signed it, an admission that he himself was a narcotic addict.

He refused, he says.

The matter dragged along a few months until the physician says he was ordered to appear at the Federal building in Los Angeles.

He was interviewed by a federal official, he says, who told him that the Government would consider a cash compromise offer.

The doctor was ignorant of such procedure, he declares.

"How much should I offer to pay?" he asked.

"In my position," the federal authority replied, the doctor says, "I cannot advise you how much to offer."

"How about $10?" the doctor suggested.

The federal man deprecated it.

"I would suggest that you make it large enough so that it would be considered."

"Well $25," the doctor said.

"Tut! Tut!" said the federal authority. "Make it $200."

The country doctor readily consented to the suggestion of the federal authority, who a few moments before had said he was not at liberty to suggest an amount.

And, so, the physician says, the compromise was effected then and there.

He had no such sum of money with him but he promised to send the federal man a check for the amount on the following day.

"Very well," was the reply. "Go downstairs to such and such an office and you will be given a new narcotic order book and a new stamp."

According to the doctor, the "cash and carry compromise" was arranged without any cash.

It was done on credit.

The next day, however, he did forward a certified check for $200 to the collector of internal revenue in Los Angeles.

"I have no complaint to make," the doctor said, "with the manner in which the case was handled.

"I was guilty of a technical violation of the law and I paid for it.

"But I was not guilty of the things that were charged outside the federal complaint.

"I am not guilty of the things that are being whispered here in the town.

"I paid the Government in cash.

Lewis, they planned to question Philip Keywell, "purple" gangster, who was picked up by the Michigan police. A photograph of Keywell has been partly identified as being of one of the "spotters" who spied on the garage for several days preceding the mass murder.

Lewis was arrested in a Detroit hotel just after he had tossed a blackjack from a window and as he was preparing to escape down a fire escape. All marks of identification had been removed from his clothing.

Business and civic leaders, aroused by a crime without precedent in Chicago gang annals, met and named a committee of five to cooperate with authorities in running down the killers. Twenty thousand dollars reward was offered by State's Attorney John A. Swanson.

Policeman Proved "Love" for Girl by Killing Her

East Orange, N. J., Feb. 21 (AP)—Margaret Bowes, 20, was instantly killed and her twin sister, Frances, seriously wounded when they were shot today by Peter J. Mooney, sergeant of the Lackawanna railroad police.

After shooting the girls, Mooney shot himself over the heart. In his pocket was found a note, written in pencil, saying:

2ND STORM DUE HERE TONIGHT

were that New England would be hit as hard.

A real winter sports holiday is in prospect for tomorrow. The temperature tonight, according to the weather forecaster, should touch a minimum of 28.

LINERS UNREPORTED

The Boston Elevated started its plows at the first sign of the heavy snowfall and mobilized special storm crews. The railroads sent out large forces to keep the switches clear, especially at the Boston terminals.

The telephone company had its emergency crews of linemen in readiness but feared no serious trouble unless the snow changed to sleet.

The minimum temperature during the night in Boston was 15, and it was still under freezing as the storm reached its height. Concord, N. H., reported five below the coldest February 21 there in 59 years.

More snow fell in New York than in all previous storms this winter, and with the flakes still falling, 10,000 workmen were called upon to keep the streets open.

Five liners due in port this morning remained unreported and the Leviathan reported delay as it neared the coast and encountered blinding snow.

ANOTHER STORM COMING

The Leviatha nwas to have come here tomorrow from New York to go into drydock again. Since the vessel left the drydock earlier this month, a strained plate has been found. Due to the storm the liner is now not expected here until later.

This storm came up the coast to hit the Hub, but another was coming from the Great Lakes area.

Storm warnings were hoisted from Atlantic City to Eastport, Me.

The second storm was expected to strike this section late tonight or soon after midnight, converging with the present one.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Snow, probably heavy, this afternoon and early tonight. Friday partly cloudy, not much change in temperature. Strong northeast winds this afternoon, shifting to north tonight and to west on Friday.

Caravan of Trucks Stalled in Blizzard spread to other towns and garrisons.

Later reports, which indicated that this may have happened, said that a battle was imminent west of Chefoo between loyal Nationalists and rebels.

Missionary women were evacuated from several towns in the affected area, although men remained at their posts.

War Lord Chang on Way to Chefoo

Shanghai, Feb. 21 (AP)—Reliable information at Dairen, Liaotung (Japanese territory), today said that Chang Tsung Chang, war lord and former military governor of Shantung, left that city yesterday for Chefoo, center of anti-Nanking maneuvering.

Chang's own whereabouts heretofore has been something of a mystery. He was accompanied to Chefoo, it was said, by Ataman Semenoff and three other Russian generals, formerly associated with the White Russian Army in China.

Only meager reports were available here from the Shantung centers, but it was believed the situation there was developing rapidly.

U. S. Consul at Chefoo Asked Navy Protection

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—American Consul Leroy Webber has advised the State Department that the situation at Chefoo was such as to make American naval protection necessary.

State Department officials said however, that they felt there was no immediate danger to Americans because of the presence in the harbor of four Japanese and two British warships.

The disturbance appears to be centered on the east end of the Shantung peninsula with former former Peking soldiers and brigands under two generals trying to execute an encircling movement with Fushan as the immediate objective.

Five Babies Born to One Mother; Case in 40 Million

Madrid, Feb. 21 (AP)—El Sol prints a dispatch from Olmedo, Valladolid, relating the birth of quintuplets, two boys and three girls, to Sofia Hernandez Molpeceres. The five babies died shortly after birth.

Dr. Isidoro Villa, professor of obstetrics in the University of Valladolid, says quintuplets are extremely rare, and that the case is possibly the first in Spain. The average of such, he said, is once in about forty million.

structure, fled down the stairway passage before the fire had advanced sufficiently to cut off escape. Two alarms were sounded.

The fire is believed to have been caused by burning fat dropped on the floor of the commissary of Nevin's Lunch, on the second floor. The lunchroom is located on the ground floor. The flames spread up through the building, racing through the roof before they were checked.

Scores of residents in adjacent buildings, including sevens on Paris st., were aroused from their sleep and prepared for flight when it seemed that the flames would spread to their homes.

The fire was discovered by Patrolman Walter Russell of the East Boston station, who saw flames issuing from the second floor windows as he passed through Maverick sq.

Soon after the arrival of the first apparatus, District Chief Henry Kraus ordered a second alarm.

Firemen of Ladder 2, located on Paris st., were the first at the burning building. When they arrived, the three men were clinging from the window ledges of the Aurora Club. Ladders were quickly thrown against the building and the three men were carried down.

Two other men were standing at the windows and were also carried to the street.

The Winthrop building stands about 12 feet from the historic Maverick House, but at no time was this building endangered.

In the rear of the Winthrop building are several brick tenement houses, the residents of which gathered their belongings together in preparation for flight to the street should it be necessary.

Firemen battled the blaze for nearly two hours before it was checked. The two upper stories were badly wrecked by the flames. On the upper story, in addition to the rooms of the two organizations, were many law offices.

11:30 in the morning. The event will be formally opened by Mayor Nichols who will act as master of ceremonies. There will be brief addresses by State officials, and then, one by one, leading stars of the stage and the radio will be brought before the microphone on the Boston Garden platform.

The Hoover inaugural will take place shortly before noon. This event, and the new President's speech will be brought to the Boston Evening American audience by radio, transmitted through the powerful public-address system of the Garden so as to be fully audible in the remotest corners of the great structure.

From time to time, the radio description of the Washington ceremonies will be picked up and reproduced for the assemblage. Meantime, up-to-the-minute M. G. M. newsreels and movie comedies will be presented. Music for the pictures will be supplied by one of the leading military bands of Boston.

Admission to the Garden will be by ticket. These may be had free of charge on application to the Boston Evening American, Inauguration Program Editor. Please enclose self-addressed envelope, and state the number of tickets desired. Tickets may be had for groups, such as clubs, churches, patriotic societies, schools and families. There is no charge whatever for this great patriotic function.

Write or apply early for tickets. Thousands of New Englanders have never had the opportunity of seeing the new Boston Garden with its tremendous seating capacity of nearly 20,000, the scene of great boxing, and skating carnivals, hockey and track meets.

COUNSEL IN CLASH AT TRIAL

proprietor of the hotel, and for the latter to "keep on" with Mr. H.

McCormack created an uproar when after testifying that on one occasion Mullen said Sullivan had lied to him, the witness cried, "I lost control of myself."

Practically all the counsel in the case rose in a body to their feet, including Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doyle, and in one voice asked that the statement be stricken out.

"At one sweep it is all wiped out," Judge Joseph Quinn assured them.

TELLS OF RAID NIGHT.

McCormack was the second witness in today's session of the trial of Mullen, Ralph Gross, Albert K. Sidlinger and Nicholas Cochinos, agent for the Watch and Ward Society.

Under direct examination by Doyle, the witness said he had known Mullen four years, that he met Gross "a couple of times" and was introduced to Cochinos by Peter Pappas, a waiter at the hotel.

McCormack said that on the night of the raid, March 22, 1928, about half an hour after it occurred, Mullen appeared at the hotel.

"Mullen said we had employed the wrong man to fight the case," the witness testified. "He said we should keep on with Mr. H. He said Oliver Garrett and Mr. H. were very close, and that Mr. H. would do anything for Mr. Sullivan."

The witness said that some time later Mullen gave him a letter to give to Sullivan, and this letter was produced in court. It showed that Mullen advised Sullivan to send money to Mr. H. and also asked the hotel proprietor to cash a check so that Mullen could eat.

ONE WOULD "TAKE RAP."

After cross-examination McCormack told of another conversation when Mullen charged that Sullivan had lied to him. After the witness' statement about losing control of himself he had been stricken out. He told of a conversation with Mullen and Gross in the rathskeller after Sullivan had gone out to keep the "meet."

In re-direct examination he was asked for details of this conversation and quoted Mullen as saying: "Mr. Sullivan will be back in half an hour. He has gone out to keep a meet with Cockinos and Jimmie H. Everything will be O. K. with the waiters. One of them will take the rap."

The witness said Mullen told him that it was McCormack, was the only one who could do anything with Sullivan, and it was his duty to advise Sullivan to keep on doing business with Mr. H.

FOLLOWED SULLIVAN.

McCormack said he had seen Mullen many times at the hotel, ones with Miss Agnes Goodwin, who was mentioned yesterday as Mullen's girl friend. He said Mullen told him about being out of municipal court on his own recognizance, when he should have been in jail.

Under cross-examination by Atty. Edward J. Tierney, counsel for Gross, the witness said Gross did not take any part in the conversations.

Special Officer Arthur Tiernan of Station 5 was the next witness. He told of being assigned to the Rits investigation on the night of April 16 and of listening in on a conversation between Gross, Mullen and Sullivan. He testified he followed Sullivan to the meeting at Massachusetts ave. and Albany st., and saw him greeted by Sidlinger.

The fact that two complaints charging liquor selling at Hotel Rits and obstructing justice were issued but the warrants never served, was brought out.

Edward Chalmers, clerk of the municipal court, read from records showing that the complaints were made out on evidence furnished by Raymond Perry and Nicholas Cochinos, Watch and Ward Society agents in the name of John Doe. He offered no explanation of the failure to serve warrants.

Reading from records of the original Rits liquor cases in the lower court, he gave the names of five waiters who were defendants.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Frederick T. Doyle brought out that the records had been impounded on June 1, 1928, by Chief Justice Wilfred Holster, following an investigation of the Rits case by Dist. Atty. William J. Foley.

Clerk Chalmers also read the names of two social service workers, Mildred Towle and Marion Raymington, who were witnesses, together with Annie Perry of Bartlett st., Malden, wife of Raymond Perry, Watch and Ward Society agent.

It was learned today that a woman who has been following the trial closely, seated in the rear of the courtroom, is a Mrs. Florence Hatch, mentioned yesterday.

Atty. William J. Patron, counsel for Sidlinger, tried to bring out in cross-examination of Sullivan that he at one time told Sidlinger that Mrs. Hatch, who had the cost check privilege at the Rits, was a relative of Officer Oliver B. Garrett of the liquor squad.

SHE'S ON TRIAL FOR WAXING FAT ON THIN

LAY FRAUD BY MAIL TO HER

How the fortune of a Lynn "miracle woman" waxed fat on the desires of Southern belles to be thin was described in his opening by Asst. U. S. Atty. John V. Spalding before Judge John A. Peters and a jury in Federal Court today at the trial of Sarah L. Perry of the Shoe City on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Madame Perry, reputed wealthy and the owner of a Lynn business block, blanketed the eastern section of the United States, according to Spalding, with literature proclaiming her ability to add stature to the short, shorten the tall, reduce obesity and fatten the thin.

SILENCE BABIES, DOGS.

Spalding asserted the government would prove these claims were false and that fees paid by the southern clients of Madame Perry were obtained through her fraudulent representations as a "miracle healer."

Samples of the letters alleged to have been mailed by Madame Perry, included in the indictment against her and read to the jury by Clerk of Court Frank L. Mason offered remedies to cure snoring, straighten crooked noses, rectify cross eyes, silence barking dogs and pacify crying babies.

WRITES FOR CURES.

Before calling C. E. Dunbar, Washington postal inspector, as the first government witness Spalding told the jury that Dunbar in the course of his investigation of the business of the Lynn healer assumed feminine names in his correspondence with her and obtained remedies for female complaints.

One of those remedies, Spalding continued, consisted of a watery solution of sulphur and lead, another of soap and water, and the third of colored water with a "suspicion" of unidentified live bacteria.

MANY WOMEN DRUG ADDICTS IN BOSTON

Thirty-five per cent of white drug addicts arrested by Boston police are women, it was revealed today by Sergt. Robert Caverly, in charge of the narcotic bureau at police headquarters.

And out of more than 10 years' experience during which he has handled approximately 5800 addicts, Sergt. Caverly never has known of an authentic and complete cure of a drug fiend, he said.

During 1928, according to the bureau head, the Boston police arrested 250 persons on charges arising out of the use or sale of narcotics. Thirty per cent were Chinese.

"The drug situation in Boston," he said, "is not acute. We find no great increase in addicts, but because of the enormous prices paid for drugs, people will always be lured into taking a chance on selling dope.

"The worst offender is the man who sells narcotics but does not use them. He is difficult to catch because he uses his head and rarely sells direct to the user. Instead he has someone else to take the chance for him.

"For this reason it is impossible to ascertain the number of persons engaged in the drug traffic in Boston.

"About 95 per cent of those arrested for peddling drugs are addicts themselves and about 95 per cent of the smoking opium consumed in Boston is used by the Chinese. The drugs most generally in use here are opium, morphine and cocaine, with morphine the most popular.

"The real solution of the whole drug proposition is for the various governments of the world to take over completely the production and manufacture of narcotics and to watch the manufacture as closely as the making of currency is watched.

Aid Offered Destitute Holdup Man's Family

Publicity given to the plight of Antonio Martignetti of 5 Thacher ct., North End, who last Saturday committed a daring robbery in the North End to obtain money to buy food and clothing for his destitute wife and children, has resulted in a number of inquiries being made of police of the Hanover-st. station concerning the welfare of the family. One man wrote Supt. of Police Michael H. Crowley, saying that he wasn't making much money, but he thought that if conditions in the Martignetti family were such as had been depicted, he thought he should offer $10 to help the family out of its trouble. He asked the superintendent if the stories were true, to turn the enclosed $10 into the fund. He asked the superintendent to make public his name.

Score of U. S. Envoys Due for Shift by Hoover

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—Belief that more than a score of the 34 United States diplomats serving in foreign countries would be withdrawn or transferred at the outset of the incoming administration has been expressed by Assistant Secretary of State Carr.

Testifying before the House appropriations committee at hearings on the second deficiency bill, Mr. Carr said additional funds were needed by the State Department for the transportation home and replacement of ambassadors and ministers for the present fiscal year, but that funds had already been supplied for the coming fiscal year.

Declaring that he was judging "from what has happened at the change of every administration in the past," Carr said it was a conservative estimate that 13 ambassadors and ministers "will very probably be changed between March 4 and June 30—either recalled or transferred." He added that the department estimated as many more diplomats would be changed after June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

Carr said he based his views on past experience.

Carried Burglar's Tools for Friend

Brockton, Feb. 21—The defense of Alexander Silver, 38, of 1224 Fellsway, Medford, on trial in superior court here on charges of attempted safe robbery and having burglar's tools in his possession, closed today, and the case goes to the jury.

Silver claimed, in his own defense, that he came to Brockton with a Medford man whom he called "Jack." He explained having burglar's tools in his possession with the statement that he was carrying them for his friend, "Jack."

Wears Same Kilts 30 Years—Punsters Do Your Stuff!

London, Feb. 21 (AP)—Wear the kilt for comfort and economy, argue thrifty and patriotic Scottish Nationalists. A kilt will outlast many pairs of trousers.

Old subscribers are writing to the newspapers claiming records for kilt endurance. One Scottish peer has worn the same kilt off and on for 30 years, and it looks as fresh as ever.

One difficulty in the popularizing of the kilt seems to be in the matter of headgear. Straw hats, derbies, silk hats or soft felts are not particularly adaptable to wear with the skirted costume of Caledonia.

Gish Sisters Pray for Abatements in Income Taxes

Washington, Feb. 21—Two more famous movie stars are squirming under the burden of the income tax.

Lillian Gish and her sister, Dorothy Gish Rennie, have filed a petition with the board of tax appeals asking that the ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue that they must pay tax deficiencies amounting to $615,483, be set aside.

In 1924 and 1925, the famous sisters had contracts calling for a combined salaries of more than a million dollars.

In her petition, Lillian Gish set forth that she signed a contract with the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corporation in 1925 which called for a total of $800,000. She assigned her contract to the Players, incorporated, a Delaware corporation, for "valuable consideration," to which her employers paid $223.79.

In making her tax return, Miss Gish did not include the money called for in the contract, contending that she had not received the money. The commissioner ruled that while she had a right to assign her salary she had received the money and must pay the tax. She deducted $24,000 in 1924 for expenditures of various sorts that she held were necessary to her work, but the collector reduced this amount to $10,476. She also claimed deductions of $2876 in 1925 for upkeep and depreciation of her automobile and the internal revenue bureau cut the amount in half.

Mrs. Rennie set forth that she had a contract with the Inspiration Pictures for 15 months at $150,000, $2500 a week and a share of the profits. She also assigned her salary to Players, Incorporated, who collected $42,500 in 1925. She did not include the amount in her income tax returns on the ground that she had not received the money. The collector ruled she had received it and assessed a deficiency tax of $7172. She claimed $276.61 as deductions for necessary expenses and the bureau cut that amount in half.

24 MILLION DRY FUND OMITTED IN NEW BILL

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—Embodying the desire of House administration leaders to circumvent the controversy of a proposal of $24,000,000 additional for prohibition enforcement in the first deficiency bill, a second measure omitting that item was submitted to the House today by its appropriations committee.

Every other item in the first bill, now lying dormant in the Senate since the House refused to accept the increased prohibition fund, is incorporated in the new measure which would provide $191,599,900 for emergency uses of government departments. One of the largest items is the $75,000,000 for tax refunds.

The total includes $11,135,500 for public buildings, $2,150,000 more than was recommended in the proposal submitted to Congress a week ago by President Coolidge. The increase is to take care of additional projects.

The only reference in the measure to prohibition enforcement is an item of $880,010 for salary increases in the prohibition bureau. A warning that a filibuster might be waged against this item in the Senate unless it includes more money for enforcement has been sounded by Senator Glass.

$75,000 BLAZE IN FALL RIVER

Fall River, Feb. 21—Fearing a recurrence of the conflagration that swept the city a year ago, firemen today fought desperately a stubborn blaze in the business district. Many persons were driven to the street. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

The fire was in the three-story office and apartment building at Pleasant and Second sts.

Today's fire is believed to have started in the Star restaurant on the ground floor. Joseph Ritchie, who lives in a tenement on the third floor with his wife and two children, discovered the fire.

Nick Oamas, employed in the restaurant, aroused the other occupants of the building.

The flames spread to a four-story structure adjoining and the interiors of both buildings were badly damaged.

The building is owned by Asa Mills and Richard B. Thompson.

POLICE RADIO STATION IS OPENED

With the legislative committee on public safety listening in, the state police today officially opened its radio broadcasting station for the apprehension of criminals.

Capt. Charles T. Reamore sat at the "mike55 in an enclosed booth in the state police headquarters and announced to five substations in the hookup an order directing a detail of 40 men for the Governor's Washington's Birthday reception at the State House. A receiving set installed in the committee room brought the message clearly to the listening members.

The station operated on 175 meters by permission of the Federal Radio Commission, the letters assigned being WMP.

At the end of the historic demonstration, marking the first police broadcast, Gen. Alfred F. Foote, commissioner of public safety, supported a bill filed by Representative Luke D. Mullen of Charlestown, under which every organized police department in the state would be required to install receiving sets as part of the state broadcasting plan.

Assembly Votes to Impeach Judge

Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 21—The assembly voted to impeach Superior Court Judge Carlos S. Hardy of Los Angeles for alleged misdemeanors in office.

The vote was taken after members of the assembly had argued pro and con on the matter for five hours following introduction of recommendations of four members of a special committee appointed to investigate charges that Judge Hardy violated a section of the state constitution when he accepted a $2500 check from Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist.

It's Too Bad Every Boy Hasn't a Sister Mary

A loyal and admiring sister to her 11-year-old brother is little Mary Hurley of Stockbridge st., Cohasset.

Whatever Arthur does is O. K. with Mary and so today she has sent the following letter to the editor of the Boston Evening American:

"Dear Sir—I am sending in a poem, which my brother 11 years old, made up about Washington. He is in the sixth grade in school, and he is very fond of making them up. I would be very glad if you would put it in your paper (Boston Evening American).

"Because he does not know I am sending it in. He is a very smart boy on everything. His father died when he was nine weeks old. I will also sent in his picture. I will close now hoping to see it in your paper."

And here is Arthur's poem, inspired by patriotic fervor and also self-gumentated:

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Like some tall cliff.
That stands on high.
He looks upon the country.
For which he was willing to die.

He gained us our Independence.
And freedom which is the same.
But he above the others.
Won for himself a name.

He loved his country.
And the red, white, and blue.
He did by fighting.
Prove it to me and you.

Like some tall cliff.
That shows its jagged peaks.
And just like the land
His history out it leaks.

So, there you are, Mary Hurley, admirer of your brother!

Arthur Hurley.

Flood Control Is Big Boon to Farming

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 21—A. E. Melton, Chicago research engineer, told the national drainage congress here that with the completion of the $325,000,000 federal flood control program, large land areas in the Mississippi valley that are now unprofitably operated will be divided into 40-acre farms and intensively cultivated by an inrush of farmers.

Leadville Now So Tame Justice Goes to the Poorhouse

Leadville, Col., Feb. 21 (AP)—Leadville, in its heyday, one of the wild and wooly mining towns in the West, has so reformed that one of its justices of the peace has gone to the poorhouse and the other has not had a case for two months.

John Griffin, elected last November, was admitted to the county infirmary after he testified his income for last month was only $8.

He attributed the slump in business to a recent campaign, which resulted in the indictment of most of the town officials and several residents on liquor charges.

DIVORCED THRICE IN 10 YEARS

Chicago, Feb. 21 (AP)—Gordon C. Thorne, son of one of the founders of Montgomery Ward & Co., had embarked today on his fourth marital venture in 10 years. The millionaire, son of the late W. C. Thorne, married Mrs. Molin Bolin, a registered nurse, at Crown Point, Indiana.

Thorne and his wife became acquainted, friends said, when she was called into care for him during an attack of pneumonia last month. His third divorce, from Mrs. Ann Cloie Thorne, was granted December 14 last.

Reports from Crown Point said Thorne appeared extremely nervous when he got the license there yesterday. He wrote his name as Gordon Thornton before being corrected by his best man, and also was said to have told of only two previous marriages and divorces, omitting the last.

Thorne gave his age as 36 years; his bride, whose name is Hammond, 34, said she was 25.

Thorne and his first wife, Virginia Miller, were divorced in 1921. His second marriage, with Mary McGinnis, was dissolved in 1925.

MYSTERIES IN POISONING OF TWO GIRLS

While Boston and Cambridge police were seeking today to solve the mystery in the poisoning of a 20-year-old Cambridge girl, Lynn police were guarding a 23-year-old girl on a cot at the Lynn Hospital where she told friends that if her third attempted suicide is a failure, she will try again.

Miss Helen Gallagher of Washington st., Cambridge, is at the Boston City Hospital in a critical condition from an undetermined poison.

At Lynn, Marie Golden of 173 Washington st., that city, is on the danger list at the Lynn Hospital from poison taken at her home in her third suicide attempt in less than two weeks.

GIRL COLLAPSED

While half a hundred police officers of Lynn were scouring that city in search of the girl who had eluded them after taking the poison at her home, she walked into Lynn Hospital, said that she had decided to end it all, and then collapsed.

Later, Charles Galecucia, 12 Bailey st., Lynn, reported to police that he had been calling on the girl for three weeks, and that they had an argument.

At the hospital, the girl gave the name of Muriel Galecucia, but she was identified by Galecucia as the Golden girl, police said.

In talking to police later, the girl said that she was married, but refused to tell police who or where her husband is.

TELLS OF ARGUMENT

Galecucia put in an appearance at the home and described the argument he had with the girl. While he was being questioned, the hospital reported that a young girl had just walked in there suffering from poisoning.

Dr. Allison told police that he treated the girl early last week for poisoning, and again Monday night, and that he was again summoned to the house.

After a hospital doctor reported that the girl told him that she was determined to end her life, and would make another attempt if this was unsuccessful, police ordered a careful watch maintained over her, and detailed a policeman to watch her.

Investigation today revealed that Miss Jenkins, whose name is on the danger list, had been absent from her home for two days.

Famous African Hunter Nearly Killed by Lion

Nairobi Kenya, British East Africa, Feb. 21 (AP)—Jack Lucy, famous English hunter, widely known among Americans who stalked big game in East Africa, is in a serious condition at a hospital from a mauling by a lion.

Lucy, who was out with Count and Countess Baibo on a hunting expedition in Kilimanuezza, Tanganyika, was stalking through a donga when he walked into a [illegible] beast was of the black-maned variety, said to be the fiercest of lions.

Lucy did not have the faintest chance for action, as the lion sprang and struck him down. It mauled him ferociously on his left side and probably would have killed him outright had not another member of the hunting party, named Padiar, arrived on the scene. The lion turned Padiar, but was shot dead [illegible]

ENGLAND TO TRY TO CRUSH U. S., SAYS BERGER

Washington, Feb. 21 (INS)—Victor L. Berger, the only Socialist in Congress, warned America in the House today.

Anglo-American relations, he said, are about the same as Anglo-German relations were just before the World War.

"The rivalry between Great Britain and the United States during the last two or three years has grown with a speed that is uncanny," Berger declared.

"We are dislodging Great Britain in the markets of the world. In 1914, when German world trade became as large as the British, the World War did not delay. The United States has replaced Germany as England's most formidable competitor—and England, which has destroyed every commercial rival that threatened its supremacy, does not intend to sit supinely by and yield to the United States. England has annihilated the sea power of Spain, France, Holland and Germany. Whose sea power will England annihilate next?"

"Shylock," he said, is the pet name by which Uncle Sam is known in England and France.

Society Sees Greatest Hawaiian Crater Erupt

Hilo, Hawaii, Feb. 21 (AP)—Kilauea, largest of Vulcan's slowly cooling forges, was belching flames today from its crater Halemaumau, "pit of everlasting fire," and providing a spectacle for hundreds of visitors here during the height of Hawaii's social season.

From subterranean depths lava and fire burst forth, hurling jets of flame 250 to 300 feet in the air. The disturbance started about 4:30 a.m. Tuesday, which is 3500 feet across and 1250 feet deep.

Within two hours the activity had increased until scores of fire streams spread in long cracks across the bottom of the lava pit and broke through crevices in the crater.

The watchman at Volcano house nearby was the first to note the display. With a bugle he signaled the people that an eruption had begun. They gathered in throngs to see the biggest show the islands afford.

Last night the spouting fire illuminated Mauna Loa, a mountain towering 13,675 feet above the sea a few miles west and north of Kilauea, making, with its tropic setting, a scene of grandeur.

This is the first sizable eruption of Kilauea since 1924, when it broke out abruptly and poured forth lava and hurled out rocks, ashes and smoke. The present eruption was not unexpected as there had been earthquakes within the pit, recently.

Prof. Thomas A. Jaggar, volcanologist, who has made the volcano a special study, expects it to continue some days.

DIVORCE LEADS TO SUICIDE

Fitchburg, Feb. 21—Facing divorce proceedings instituted by his second wife, Henry Ylitalo, 41, ended his life today by slashing his throat in the basement of his home on Mechanic st.

The man, his throat slashed from ear to ear, was found lying on a bed in a basement room by his 11 year-old son, John, with whom Ylitalo has lived alone since his estrangement from his wife.

Another child by his first wife, Bertha, 13, is living with Ylitalo's second wife, the former Fenia Nixon of Milford, whose suit for divorce is scheduled to come to trial in the near future.

The son, John, went into the basement bedroom in search of his father, and found the body lying on the bed. In the hallway outside a long, keen-edged jackknife was found.

BY GUM! BEGUM SCORNS U. S. $40,000 OFFER

London, Feb. 21 (AP)—The London Express says Mumtaz Begum, former dancing girl in the seraglio of Tuloajirado, ex-Maharajah of Indore, will make her debut as a concert singer at the Royal Opera House, Bombay, Saturday. Afterwards she will go to England, inaugurating a world tour.

She is quoted as telling the correspondent she had refused an offer of a three-year contract at $40,000 a year to appear in films for an American company because she desired no other career than singing.

Mumtaz Begum attracted wide attention in 1925, when as a girl of 20, she escaped from the household of the then Maharajah of Indore and took refuge in the establishment of a Bombay merchant, Abdul Kadir Baula.

Nine men attempted to kidnap her but failed when some British officers interested interfered. Baula however was killed in the fight and Mumtaz Begum herself suffered knife wounds on her face which disfigured her for life. Ensuing action by the British government, in which nine persons figured, some of whom were high in the service of the Maharajah, were cited for murder, led to the Maharajah's renouncing his throne in favor of his eldest son.

REVERE BOYS HELD IN N. Y.

While a policeman pursued one Revere boy in New York, his chum, who had snatched a woman's purse on Fifth ave., ran after the officer and gave himself up, according to an Associated Press dispatch received here today.

The boys, who had only 11 cents between them and were desperate with hunger, identified themselves as William Phillips, 18, of Payson st., and Charles McCarthy, 18, of the same street.

According to the police, the youths were walking on Fifth ave. when McCarthy snatched the handbag. The boys then separated as they fled.

An officer pursued Phillips and caught him.

Rival Factions Arm, Vienna to Run Blood

Vienna, Feb. 21 (AP)—Desperate eleventh-hour efforts by Police President Schober to avert the projected massed demonstrations Sunday of Austria's rival militant home guards have failed.

Both the Socialists and anti-Socialists continued to arm for Sunday's gathering. Vienna's Communist newspaper "Red Flag" today declared the Heimwehr has received a full allotment of revolvers and other weapons and urged that the rival Socialist and Communist groups meet the "Fascist challenge with all the fury at their command."

Two Students Held for Attack on Man

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 21—Two 19-year-old Syracuse University students were lingering in jail here today, awaiting sentence following their pleas of guilty to an attack charge.

The youths, Theodore Meier and Robert King, both of Fayetteville, N. Y., were compared with Leopold and Loeb, the Chicago "thrill murderers," by Judge Harry S. McDevitt, after pleading guilty to attacking James L. Alloway, 78, February 14, as he entered his home here. The aged man was struck several times over the head and arms with a pistol butt.

BYRD MAPS OUT VAST NEW AREA IN ANTARCTIC

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—The New York Times, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and their associated newspapers announced today that Commander Richard E. Byrd, in an extensive airplane flight made with two planes on Monday last, discovered and mapped in part a vast new territory in the Antarctic, which he has claimed for the United States and has named for his wife, Marie Byrd Land.

Commander Byrd also has discovered a second new mountain range, east and south of the first discovered by him recently and named the Rockefeller Range. That range is within territory claimed by the British and known as the Ross Dependency.

The new range discovered on Monday is larger than the first and contains peaks between 8000 and 10,000 feet high. It is outside the limit of the British claims, and is in the new Marie Byrd Land, which lies between Ross Sea and Graham Land.

MAN'S TRAVELS TOO MUCH FOR TAX EXPERTS

Washington, Feb. 21 (INS)—The story of the world's most remarkable traveler who on successive nights visited Chicago, Alberta, Ontario, Vancouver, Halifax and Winnipeg was disclosed in a decision by the United States board of tax appeals.

By this decision Golding & Hahn Co., Inc., of New York, was required to pay an extra tax of $14,000 for 1920, the board having approved the action of the internal revenue bureau in disallowing deductions for traveling expense.

"The schedule shows that on Sept. 8, 1920, Joseph Golding was in Chicago and that the next day he was in Calgary, after a one night journey of more than 2000 miles," the report said.

Names, locations, particulars and sales prices of vessels of each design are obtainable on request. Detailed plans are on file and may be examined, or sets of detailed plans, if desired, will be furnished at cost of reproductions. Vessels may be inspected upon application.

Vessels will be sold "as is, where is" at date of delivery and without warranty or guaranty as to seaworthiness, condition, description, capacity, or tonnage. Offers may stipulate right of bottom inspection on dry dock at risk and expense of bidder upon terms contained in Standard Proposal Form.

The sales price for each vessel shall be subject to change without notice.

For cargo vessels described as "Ocean built," the following terms of payment will be considered from responsible American buyers: 10 per cent in cash or equivalent on closing of sale; balance in not more than ten equal annual payments with interest payable semi-annually; deferred payments and interest to be secured by first preferred mortgage in form approved by Board; interest at the rate of 5 per cent.

For cargo vessels described as "Lake built," the following terms of payment will be considered from responsible American buyers: 25 per cent in cash, balance in five equal annual installments with 5 per cent interest, payable semi-annually, secured by first preferred mortgage.

The Board may consider, as part of the terms and conditions of sale, the alteration and/or reconditioning of vessels to approved design.

All vessels will be sold exclusive of stores, bunker fuel, and leased equipment.

Offers must be submitted on a lump sum basis, on standard proposal forms, which can be procured from the undersigned office, and must be accompanied by a certified check made payable to the United States Shipping Board, for 2½ per cent of the amount bid. If award is made to any bidder said amount will be credited on the purchase price in the event of his completing his purchase within 60 days from date of award, but in case he shall fail to complete his purchase within the time specified, the bidder shall have no right to demand back the whole or any part of any deposit made pursuant to his offer of purchase. Amount of deposite will be returned promptly to unsuccessful bidders.

The Board reserves the right to accept any bid, or reject any and/or all bids or waive any irregularity in any bid, and to defer the sale of such vessels as may be required in connection with operations for the account of the Board.

Inquiries regarding vessels and offers therefor should be addressed to:

NEW FIGHT TO FREE DE VALERA

Dublin, Irish Free State, Feb. 21 (AP)—The question of Eamon De Valera's imprisonment in Northern Ireland for violating an order against his entering northern territory was raised in the Dail today by th opposition.

President Cosgrave explained that the Irish Free State government had done everything possible by making representations, but had no power to interfere with the Northern administration of its law.

The opposition still expressed dissatisfaction, and it was agreed to debate the question further.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a kitchenette apartment and the best are advertised daily in the For Rent columns.

HUB SHIP JOINS NAVY RESERVE

The cargo steamship Lorain of the Yankee Steamship Line, Capt. J. M. Kaulk, today was added to the newly organized U. S. Navy Merchant Marine Reserve at a colorful exercise presided over by Rear Admiral Philip Andrews and attended by a large number of merchant marine and naval officers, ship owners and operators.

At its berth at the Hoosac docks in Charlestown the vessel was boarded by Admiral Andrews and his staff. A warrant commissioning the ship in the reserve because more than 50 per cent of its officers are members of the reserve was read by Admiral Andrews.

EASTERN DOG SHOW PROVES MIGHTY MAGNET TO BOSTON SOCIETY FOLK

Q. A. Shaw McKean Exhibits Wire-Haired Fox Terriers; Bayard Tuckerman's Sole Entry Is Bull Terrier

THE OPENING OF THE EASTERN DOG CLUB'S SHOW AT Mechanics Building yesterday was one of the high lights of the season, for many well known members of society in the Back Bay and along the North and South Shores were among the exhibitors. The annual Boston show brings together some of the finest dogs in the country, for it is generally considered by experts as second only to the Westminster show. Competition is very keen, and interest is heightened by the fact that the decision of the New York judges is sometimes reversed by those in Boston.

MR. Q. A. SHAW McKEAN IS EXHIBITING EIGHT WIRE HAIRED fox terriers. Mr. Clement Burnhome's entries are in the Airedale class, while Mr. Dudley P. Rogers has entered sealyhams. One of the most beautiful dogs in the show is Mr. George Saltonstall West's grey hound. Mr. Bayard Tuckerman, who ordinarily exhibits in several classes, has this year only one entry, a bull terrier. In the cocker spaniel class there are several entries by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Clap of Weston, who have exhibited all over the country.

BOSTON HAS A NEW CHAMPION IN THE PERSON OF MISS MARGARET WARREN of Dedham, the daughter of Mr. Winslow Warren. Miss Warren is staying at the Ponce de Leon in St. Augustine, Fla., where ping-pong is played with great enthusiasm. In the matches played in the Alcazar patio on Monday she and Mrs. Kenneth H. Wales of Washington distinguished themselves by defeating all rivals for the championship.

MR. ALLAN FORBES OF DEDHAM WAS ONE OF THE GUESTS at the sportsmen's breakfast given at the Woolworth House in Aiken, S. C., this week by Mr. Harry Worcester Smith. Former Governor Robert P. Barr of New Hampshire was also present. A number of Bostonians are wintering in Aiken, including Mr. Bayard Warren and his family, who will stay on until the end of April.

A MUSICAL EVENING WILL BE HELD AT THE MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS on Wednesday of next week when Heinrich Gebhard, widely known composer and pianist, will give a concert, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Perkins, Mrs. Walter C. Baylies, Mrs. I. Tucker Burr, Mrs. Richard C. Cabot, Mrs. J. Templeton Coolidge, Mrs. Edwin Farnham Greene, Mrs. Augustus Hemenway, Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer, Mrs. Edwin S. Webster, Mrs. Robert Treat Paine, 2d, and Mrs. A. Lawrence Lowell are among those lending their support to this concert, which is the second of three entertainments for the benefit of the Museum School library.

BOSTONIANS WHO WILL ATTEND the Grand National Steeplechase at Liverpool late in March include Mr. and Mrs. Augustus F. Goodwin and their daughters, Miss Frances Goodwin and Miss Betty Barrell of Hamilton. The Goodwins have been traveling abroad this winter contrary to their custom of wintering in Aiken, S. C., where they have an estate.

BOTH MISS GOODWIN AND Miss Barrell are racing enthusiasts, and created quite a stir in January when they bought a stable and registered their colors with the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association. They are the youngest women in the country to enter the group of women who are going in for racing.

INVITATIONS HAVE BEEN sent for a Mi-Careme ball at the Hotel Somerset on Thursday, March 7. Former Governor and Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Eliot Wadsworth, Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Cabot, Jr., Miss Eleonora Sears and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. de Menocal are among those whose names appear on the invitations. The ball is for the benefit of the South End Music school, in which many Boston people are interested.

Urges State Forest

Creation of a State forest in 1200 acres of land situated in Ashby and Townsend was urged at a legislative hearing at the State House by representatives of various organizations.

Miss Mary I. Hammond will be a bridesmaid at the wedding of Harriet Woodbury and John Caldwell Welwood, Jr., at St. Thomas' Church in New York, Saturday. Miss Hammond resides at 119 Hyslop rd., Brookline, and is a widely known member of the younger set.

Big Holiday Rush to Points North

A Washington's Birthday rush to Montreal, Quebec and northern New England winter resorts was in full swing on the Boston & Maine railroad, and by tomorrow noon, officials estimated, 1000 Montreal-bound excursionists and 1000 winter sports parties will have left the North Station within a 24-hour period. The peak of the movement is expected today.

Permit Close View of Keith Gorilla

Joe Mendi, famous gorilla, appearing this week at the B. F. Keith Memorial Theater, has attracted so much attention that many patrons of the theater have expressed a desire to see him at closer range.

Accordingly, the management of the big vaudeville house has announced that patrons may go back stage after the afternoon or evening performance in order to shake hands with the gentleman from Main st., Africa.

YOUNG ARTIST IN CONCERT

By MOSES SMITH

Sonya Levine, young violinist, played in Jordan Hall before a small but enthusiastic audience. Miss Levine is said, and appears, to be still in her 'teens, but she set for herself a full-sized program which included, for principal numbers, Corelli's "La Folia" and Saint-Saens' concerto in A major.

The concert tended to take on a juvenile aspect, for the accompanist, Edythe Barr, is apparently even younger than the violinist. Miss Levine's playing on this occasion placed her in a position held by scores of other debutantes, except that she is appreciably younger than the average. She is not yet an artist, by any stretch of the imagination. Her playing was that of the pupil in the studio. That she has talent is obvious, but it is the talent of the student.

Whether this talent will ripen into artistry is unpredictable. To the writer it did not seem exceptionable, forgetting for the moment the violinist's youth. The technical equipment called for in the Concerto was forthcoming at the demand of the performer, but not so readily as to leave the heart and brain free scope for music-making. Moreover, music-making as such is scarcely to be expected as yet.

Miss Barr played surprisingly accurate accompaniments. A more incisive rhythm would have helped matters in Barasate's "Caprice Basque," a more subdued tone in Burleigh's "Summer Idyl." For the most part, however, she performed her job capably.

10 RIFLE TEAMS FROM 1 SCHOOL

With more than 400 teams entered for the 1929 Hearst Rifle Trophy shoot, Washington University of St. Louis, Mo., has broken the first record by entering the greatest number of teams from any single participating institution.

The R. O. T. C. unit at that university will be represented by 10 teams and its rifle club has a membership of 200, one of the largest and most enthusiastic groups of marksmen in the country.

In preparation for the national match, Washington University is holding a series of weekly contests between individuals and teams. Capt. Rodney C. Jones, U. S. A., is in charge of rifle practice.

"I am heartily in favor with the Hearst shoot," Capt. Jones said. "Most rifle matches are conducted for a limited number of persons and do not include a wide range of active young men throughout the country who are interested in attaining proficiency with a rifle. The nation-wide extent of the Hearst shoot enables these young men to participate in the true spirit of national defense."

Interest in the firing for the William Randolph Hearst trophies has been growing constantly since the first match in 1922. At that time 46 teams participated.

WANT EGYPTIAN COTTON TO BE DUTY FREE

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—Taking up the opposition to proposed tariff on cotton at the hearing before the ways and means committee today, John H. Clark of the Clark Thread Company, Newark, N. J., contended there was no substitute for the Egyptian long staple in this country at this time. He said the Arizona pima cotton had been tested by the manufacturers and found to be much "weaker and very irregular."

A duty on the long staple from Egypt, Clark said, would increase the cost of both Egyptian and American manufacturers and raise the prices of thread and other manufactured cotton articles to the American consumer.

CASE IDLE SPINDLERS.

Further, he said, it would decrease the consumption, cause idle spindlers, and throw many persons out of employment.

Clark maintained that the duty would not help the American farmer, who, he said, was better off than the cotton manufacturer, insofar as he was now exporting while the latter was not.

No duty, he said, would keep out Egyptian cotton as long as the public demanded it.

Allan Barrows, Wamsutta Mills, New Bedford, Mass., and Robert G. Kerr, American Thread Company, also spoke against the proposed tariff, as did M. E. Clark, representing the tire division of the Rubber Corporation of America.

BURDEN ON TIRE USERS.

Clark said a duty would impose a burden on the American tire consumers and result in no benefit to the cotton grower. He added that 75 per cent of cotton used for tires, or 530,000 bales a year, is of a staple of 1 3-16 inches and over, and 210,000 bales is 1⅛ inches and above.

The 310,000 bales on shorter length, he said, is all American cotton, while 150,000 of teh longer staple also is American grown.

Clark contended the American cotton of 1⅛ inches and over was not interchangeable with Egyptian, which was demanded for higher priced tires used for trucks and buses.

Clark said the tire industry would be perfectly willing to have the 10 per cent duty on tires removed as there were few tires now being imported.

Maine Rail Head Dies

Bangor, Me., Feb. 21 (AP)—Henry F. Dowst, 81, who rose from station agent to general manager of the Washington County division of the Maine Central railroad, is dead at his home here. His widow was Miss Katherine Davis of Boston.

SHE THOUGHT HER CASE HOPELESS

Yet ALL-BRAN Brought Relief Almost Immediately —No Trouble Since

When constipation once gets a grip on a person, it is almost impossible to relieve it, let alone prevent it with drugs and treatments. But here's a lady who was freed from her suffering—read her letter.

"Mine was an extreme case of constipation and although I had tried about everything that was recommended to me, I had almost given up hopes of ever being relieved.

"One day I came across your advertisement, so I thought I would try ALL-BRAN. It relieved me almost immediately and I have had no trouble since, which was almost three months ago."—Mrs. E. E. Leslie, 2104 Lyman St., Flint, Michigan.

Your system must have roughage or bulk daily, otherwise constipation is almost inevitable. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will supply this bulk. It is a healthful cereal to eat every day. To use in cooked dishes or serve with milk or cream. To mix with other cereals.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation and to prevent it. Far better than pills and laxatives whose doses often have to be increased to be effective. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. It is 100% bran and is 100% effective. Doctors recommend it. Your grocer sells it. Served by hotels, restaurants, dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Study Hub's County Expense in School

Clubwomen, stirred by reports of the heavy financial burden on Dame Boston since her legal stepdaughter, Suffolk County, grew up to demand new courthouses and such, are going to school on March 14 to learn what can be done about it. The Boston League of Women Voters, headed by Mrs. Willard D. Woodbury, will conduct the school at the Twentieth Century Club on that date. Presidents of all women's clubs in the city and county are invited to register for this exploration of "the jungle of American politics" resulting from the city of Boston assuming the obligation for the county expenses away back in 1832 when Suffolk County was a little tot with simple notions. "The relationship between the city and county has raised questions of finance that will be continually agitated until some equitable settlement is made," Mrs. Woodbury said. "This is a field of local politics little understood by the women voters and so this school will be held in the nature of an inquiry into the situation so that future agitation on the subject will be better understood."

Mrs. Willard D. Woodbury

The "teachers" will be prominent city and county officials who will tell of the multitude of problems arising from the present city-county relationship.

QUESTION PERIODS

Question periods will follow and a round table conference will be held after the luncheon at 12:30 during which the solution offered by a Harvard political science authority will be discussed freely.

"Some of the recent petitions to the Legislature, notably that calling for a commission to probe Suffolk county expenses, will be fully explained when the history of our city-county relationship is studied," Mrs. Woodbury said. "This will be a course well worth the few hours devoted to it by club officers. We look to the 200 or more pupils to pass this knowledge along."

A long list of prominent persons are sponsoring the school. The program will be completed within the next day or tw

STUDY TOWN WARRANT

Amherst women are the guests today of the civics department of the Amherst Woman's Club meeting at the Jones library to study the town warrant.

TACNA-ARICA DISPUTE ENDS AFTER 45 YEARS

Santiago, Chile, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Tacna-Arica boundary dispute, born in war and thriving through 45 years on international strife, has been settled by peaceful means.

Official announcement here today says that an agreement has been reached between the governments of Peru and Chile, the two countries involved, by which the Province of Tacna goes to Peru and that of Arica to Chile.

The boundary is fixed slightly north of the railroad leading from the port of Arica to La Paz, Bolivia, thus this railroad, of the utmost importance to Bolivia since it is her sole outlet to the Pacific, remains in Chilenan territory until it crosses the Bolivian frontier.

The railroad from Tacna to Arica will be under Peruvian control, while a spur which is to be constructed at Arica, connecting the two lines, will be under Chilean control.

The agreement is due to diplomatic negotiations undertaken just four months ago, after resumption of diplomatic relations by Chile and Peru at the invitation of the United States Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg last July.

Alpha Chapter has Its Dance Tonight

Alpha Chapter of the Rho Pi Phi Fraternity at the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy will hold its annual "pledge dance" at the Hotel Buckminster tonight.

The guests of honor are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Epstein and Mr. and Mrs. Max Miller. The committee in charge are B. Baker, chairman; E. Miller, E. Belmarsh, H. Fishman. A large number of the alumni are expected to attend.

STRICKEN MAN LOSES HIS RACE WITH DEATH

Henry Marson, West Somerville salesman, raced death on his way from Portland, Me., to Boston early today, but succumbed shortly after arrival at the Haymarket Relief Hospital.

Stricken shortly after the Yankee Express, crack flier of the Boston & Maine, passed through Newburyport, Marson was prepared for a gamble with death in which a fast train, telegraph, telephone and speedy ambulance played a part.

At Newburyport, word was flashed to the North Station of the man's critical condition. A telephone message to the hospital sent an ambulance to the depot to await arrival of the train.

The train engineer co-operated by running her at record speed while the crew did all possible for the dying man. As the express came to a stop in the North Station, Marson was placed on a stretcher, taken to the waiting ambulance and hurried to the hospital. There he died soon after his arrival.

He is survived by the widow, two daughters, a brother and a sister.

HUB TO SEE NEW HUDSON MODEL

Shown for the first time in Boston, five of the new Hudson-Essex model automobiles will feature a special Washington's Birthday exhibit at the Kenmore salesrooms of the Henley-Kimball Company.

So far these cars have only been shown at the national shows in New York and Chicago and were shipped to Boston especially for this occasion. Motorists who view the automobile industry's latest offerings on the holiday will welcome the opportunity to see these new models.

The Hudson seven-passenger sedan, mounted on the special 135-inch chassis, will attract particular interest. It is an originality roomy car and embodies comfort and convenience of the large, family type sedan.

There will also be on display two new convertible coupes, one on the Hudson standard chassis and one on the Essex chassis. Both these cars have large rumble seats and spacious storage capacity. A novel feature is the arrangement of the doors, which provides absolute tightness against wind and weather.

The Essex roadster, with rumble seat and finished in maroon and chariot red, is another model that is sure to please.

CLEARS OUT HEAD At Once

Inhale OZO Mist for a COLD!

Place a few drops of OZO Mist on handkerchief or pillow and get rid of stopped-up feeling and labored breathing at once. Let dry and then inhale—and five medications are vaporized naturally through nasal and bronchial passages. Respiration at once becomes normal and comfortable. Nose, eyes, ears, and throat organs are relieved. This is "half the battle" in treating a cold. Get OZO Mist (50 applications 75c) at all druggists.

Wears Out Shoes; Asks Town to Buy New Pair

Pittsfield, Feb. 21 - Miss Helen Clark of Winsted, Conn., is the librarian of the town of Sandisfield and opens the library every Friday. On her last trip she had trouble with her automobile and, leaving the machine, walked 11 miles and got to the library on time. She is now asking the selectmen to buy her a new pair of hers as she wore out the ones she had on the hike. And besides, she says, her salary is not large.

AGE TELLS OF SAFETY NEED

"A new airplane design, permitting landings at slower speeds and thus increasing safety, is needed to speed up aviation development," declared Capt. E. D. C. Herne, noted British air ace and sky-writer, at a dinner at the Boston City Club, arranged in his honor by C. S. Henshaw, Boston automobile distributor.

"Planes will come into general use for business and pleasure only when an almost vertical landing can be made at a gentle speed," said the British aviator, who now is associated with the engineering staff of Chrysler motor interests.

"Landing speeds of 60 and 70 miles an hour made by planes today make up the most dangerous part of flying. When planes can alight at speeds of 10 and 15 miles an hour, even if crashes do occur, the danger of death and serious injury will be almost eliminated. Night flying especially will be less hazardous."

Capt. Herne will lecture tomorrow on features of Dodge automobile engines at the salesrooms of the Henshaw Motor Company, 989 Commonwealth ave.

"Front-wheel drive will be the next important development in the auto industry," he predicts. "Superchargers, along the lines of those now used in racing cars, will be another development."

Appeal on Return of Newton Rum

Jeremiah Donovan of Commonwealth ave., Newton, who has been fighting to get $15,000 worth of choice liquors back in his possession for months, is not on a clear road yet despite a ruling by Federal Judge Lowell directing the return of the wet goods.

Today it appears that U. S. Dist.-Atty. Elihu D. Stone will appeal the decision and, in that event, Donovan must await the ruling of the circuit court of appeals to affirm the order.

Real Man Without a Country Gets One

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—After three years a country has been found for a man without a country. Flint Morton, 21, spent 315 days in jail at Plattsburgh rather than reveal his nationality after he was arrested for stealing train rides.

Finally he was freed and a job was found for him on condition that he report to immigration officers monthly. He failed to do so. It has been ascertained that he is an Austrian and he is to be deported.

HUB DEALERS TO FETE AUTO ENTHUSIASTS

Boston automobile dealers, observing a time-honored custom are ready to entertain thousands of auto enthusiasts tomorrow. It is open house with the salesrooms. Music, refreshments and decorations will await visitors.

This display by the auto dealers is a prelude to the auto show next month.

There will be an amazing showing of all that is best in auto engineering, construction and design and completeness, a pre-showing of those cars which within a few days will comprise the grand showing in Mechanics building.

For this occasion several of the dealers have special displays emphasizing the story of the transportation of yesterday, today and tomorrow, all the way from the ancient velocipede to the latest development in transportation—the airplane.

Many and varied will be the displays, interesting to a degree, permitting one to inspect at leisure this, that or the other motor car.

The receptions will start early in the morning, continuing all day long, and in the majority of cases until the evening hours.

It will be a busy day, indeed, along the motor rialto.

Here is where one can find the motor cars on display:

Manager Assumes Blame for Tube Fire

New York, Feb. 21 (INS)—While investigations were continuing into the Hudson tube horror in which 1500 Jersey commuters were trapped for an hour deep underground, the Transit Commission was digesting the statement of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad that the company assumed all blame for the accident.

General Manager C. S. Klumpp said "the conduct of the whole train crew is deserving only of praise. I alone am to blame for the scattered debris which caught fire and caused the accident."

WITH THE NEW
"FINGER-TIP CONTROL"

A single button, in the center of the steering wheel, starts the motor, operates the lights and sounds the horn. This fundamental improvement is also an important safety factor, as you can keep your foot always on the brake when starting or restarting on a hill.

LARGER BODIES · GREATER BEAUTY WIN INSTANT POPULARITY

AS SOON as you see and drive the car, you readily understand the sweeping success and record sales of the new Superior Whippet.

First, there is the supreme beauty of design that makes the new Superior Whippet the style authority in its class. You are quick to admire the graceful lines, the longer bodies, the higher radiator and hood, the smart but harmonious colors, the one-piece full crown fenders.

Then, when you enter the car, you are gratified with its spacious, tastefully appointed interiors. The longer wheelbase gives several inches of added leg room. Seats are considerably wider and have form-fitting contours, assuring restful, comfortable positions for all passengers. Exceptionally wide doors afford easy entrance and exit.

Impressive as the new Superior Whippet is in beauty and size, the new car is also remarkable for performance. In speed, power, pick-up and hill-climbing it surpasses even its famous predecessor. Its dependable performance and low consumption of gasoline and oil make it well qualified to carry on Whippet's unsurpassed reputation for operating economy and minimum service costs.

Yet with all these improvements, the new Superior Whippet's prices are amazingly low. An inspection and a demonstration will surprise you with how much fine car value you can buy for very little money.

Essex the Challenger sweeps aside the barriers of price class. It challenges the performance, the style, the luxurious roomy comfort of any car at any price, on the basis that no other car gives you back so much for every dollar you put in.

A glance at its 76 advanced features (listed at right) reveals at once why Essex excepts no car in its challenge. For point after point in fine car construction, performance and detail, brings you directly to costliest cars to find comparison.

With above 70 miles an hour top speed, Essex the Challenger, in thousands of demonstrations, is proving the endurance and ability to do 60 miles an hour all day long.

It is the finest, largest, roomiest, most brilliantly performing Essex ever built, and the price the lowest for which Essex ever sold—but little above the lowest priced cars on the market

That is why the acceptance of Essex the Challenger is the talk of motordom. Join the van of 1,000,000 Super-Six owners who are demonstrating its right and ability to challenge the best that motordom offers.

ANY RESPONSIBLE INDIVIDUAL CAN ORGANIZE FLAG BOARD

ALL CHILDREN OF ELIGIBLE AGES CAN ENTER CONTEST

HERE'S good news for the school boys and school girls all New England.

On the eve of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington a message is sent by the United States Flag Association, now conducting the nation-wide patriotic Flag Contest, to every school boy and school girl in the New England States, affording them an opportunity to become enrolled as a contestant for the grand national prize of a trip around the world.

If your local school or patriotic organizations have not as yet decided to conduct local contest units, the United States Flag Association urges YOU and you fellow scholars to appeal to responsible individual or individuals to form Flag Boards. These Flag Boards when duly formed will act the same as schools or other organizations.

To the thousands of letters that have been received by the Flag Contest Editor during the past week from school boys and school girls appealing for opportunities to enroll in this great patriotic, nation-wide, educational and constructive movement, here is an opportunity to take part in the Contest. Take up the matter of forming a local contest unit in your city or town with the president of your local bank.

SPLENDID OFFER

This was done successfully by the Linden National Bank and Trust Co., Linden, New Jersey. The banz, which is headed by Frank G. Newell, prominent New Jersey capatilist, as president, decided it had a sufficiently great interest in the future welfare of the youngsters of that community to take over the sponsorship of a contest there and permit the high school boys and girls to take advantage of the splendid offer of travel and educational prizes which the contest makes possible.

If this can be done in New Jersey —why not in New England? Is there a high school in your town or city concerns, public-spirited men, chairmen of the boards of selectmen, Go to your Mayor, tell him of the magnitude of the awards and that you would like to have your city or town represented by a winner.

Organizations of these Flag Boards have the same power and the same opportunities are offered under their jurisdiction as the local contest units have under the direction of school principals or organizations heads. This offer is made to the school children between the ages of 11 and 18, whose schools have not as yet decided to enter the Flag Contest.

Remember that those who enter now and during next week or so will be in no wise penalized for not having an equal footing with those whose applications came in immediately following the announcement of the contest.

SCORES OF UNITS

The Flag Contest Editor has scores of local contest units under operation throughout New England and is adding to them daily. Write to him, and he will gladly be able to place you or refer you to a unit now in operation in your locality.

Do not be afraid to present these contest facts to any legitimate organization in your city or town.

There is not one identical thought attached to the contest that is objectionable to any organization, either public or private, or organization. The Flag Contest is, in fact, a most comprehensive educational project, built up around the Flag of the United State. That is very vitalize and make interesting and enjoyable instruction that will spread understanding and a deeper appreciation of American ideals and institutions by entwining such instruction with the Flag of the United States is symbol honored and revered by all good citizens.

What could be a better time to impress and appeal to the patriotic spirit of your fellow townsmen than today and tomorrow—the eve and birthday of George Washington, the Father of our Country, American leader-statesman, and the first President of the United States. He was born on February 22, 1732, at Bridges Creek in Westmoreland County, Virginia. 197 years ago tomorrow.

What George Washington did to inspire the youth of America and to perpetuate 'Old Glory' is known to every schoolboy and schoolgirl in America.

HISTORIC SHRINES

With this thought left in your mind, remember that the regional winners in the Flag Contest will visit Washington, the "Heart of the Nation"; Mount Vernon, beautiful home of George Washington, located on the banks of the historic Potomac. The home is furnished today the same as when Washington lived there, and on the grounds are buried Washington, Martha Washington and other members of the Washington family. The memories of a visit to this famous shrine will live in you as long as life endures.

Included in this great patriotic pilgrimage to every historic shrine in America is Valley Forge, the darkest hour in American history. The heart-throbbing story of the half-starved, half-clad Continental Army at Valley Forge during that bitter winter of 1777-1778, is an epic of courage, fortitude, sacrifice, suffering and patriotism that will grip the hearts of men and inspire mankind.

The story of Valley Forge has a glory all its own. When you will wander over the hills of Valley Forge and contemplate the sublime memories of the valor, endurance, and sacrifice of those who on that spot suffered and died that we of today might enjoy the blessings of Liberty; which are ours, when you view the same hills that saw these suffer, when you tread the same ground as that trod by their feet, when you behold left on the rivers of their country—when you contemplate the sublime memories of the heroic past, you will experience those feelings of reverential gratitude which will realize as you never have before the debt of gratitude we owe our Forefathers.

BIG AWARDS

The Boston Evening American again reprints the additional awards in condensed form. They are as follows:

1—Instead of but one boy and one girl being given the three months' cruise around the world, TWO boys and TWO girls will be awarded this grand prize.

2—The 36 regional champions—18 boys and 18 girls—who were by the original provisions of the contest to have been given a week's tour of the patriotic shrines of the East, will be taken on a TWO WEEKS' tour. The trip will be extended to permit the party to visit historic spots in New England, Saratoga, New York City, Gettysburg, etc.

3—Each of the 36 regional winners is now in addition to the trip to the patriotic shrines will be given a cash award worth $250 each. These awards to be applied in any school, college, or institution which the winner may select or to any other purpose of an educational nature which may be selected.

Another scholarship awards will also be made to the boys of each section who shall have attained third highest mark in the contest, and to the two girls from each section who shall have attained third highest marks. The various medals and certificates of honorable mention will also be awarded as originally set forth in the original announcement.

The contest is open to all boys and girls between the ages of 11 and 18 who are not high school graduates. Remember—it's not too late to start now. Write to the Flag Contest Editor for full details.

In today's Boston Evening American there is another set of eight questions. Do not fail to cut these out and save them.

Full information regarding the Contest may be had by writing to the Flag Contest Editor of the Boston Evening American.

9 New Questions in Flag Contest

42—How should the colors of red, white, and blue bunting be arranged as decoration on a speaker's platform, or elsewhere, and why should the blue be above or to the observer's left? (Value one point.)

43—Should any other flag, pennant, emblem or object of any kind be placed on or above the Flag of the United States? (Value one point).

44—Should lettering of any kind ever be placed upon the Flag? (Value one point.)

45—When does the Flag Code prescribe the Flag shall be saluted, and how is the salute rendered (a) by men, and (b) by women? (Value three points.)

46—Should there be an American Flag in every American Home, and if so, when should it be displayed? (Value one point.)

47—If there should be no Flag in the home of a boy or girl, what would it be his or her duty to do as a loyal American? (Value one point.)

48—If the Flag in the home of a boy or girl is torn, soiled, or badly faded, what should the boy or girl do? (Value one point.)

49—What should we do when "The Star Spangled Banner" is played? (Value one point.)

50—What is the only bond we have in this Country which unites every American to every other American, regardless of race, creed, social position, financial standing, or other conditions of life? (Value one point.)

Cut out and save these questions.

THUGS TIE UP 7 IN HOME, FLEE

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—Three youthful robbers, gaining entrance to the home of John Mercogliano, building contractor, in Richmond Hill, Queens, by ruse, tied the doorbell, held up the seven members of the family and escaped with $4000 in jewelry and cash.

The robbers drove to the house in an automobile. When the door was opened the trio swept into the hall brandishing revolvers. One of the men with a coil of wire tied the hands of all the family, except Mrs. Mercogliano, and a relative who had a baby in her lap.

One man pointed a revolver at the group, another cut the telephone wire and another forced a member of the family to open a small safe. The combination was called out by the contractor, who was ill in bed. After taking the jewelry and cash found there, the trio warned the family against spreading the alarm, and departed in their car.

One of the women managed to hold the severed ends of the telephone wire together and the police were summoned.

Vermont Governor Signs Railroad Bill

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 21 (AP)—Governor John E. Weeks has signed the bill passed by the Vermont Legislature to enable the Canadian National Railways to continue their status with relation to the Central Vermont Railway Company.

The Central Vermont, now in receivers' hands as a result of the 1927 flood disaster, will be reorganized, with the Canadian company holding a controlling interest as heretofore.

New Bedford, Feb. 21 (AP)—Samuel Perry Richmond, 81, an original member of the municipal park board, died today. He was a member of a long established bakery firm.

LABOR 'SURE' TO RULE BRITAIN

London, Feb. 21 (INS)—The Labor party is so sure of coming into power at the general election in June that it has already drawn up its Cabinet list.

Although it is a case of counting chickens before they are hatched, the Labor people have arranged for teh offices to be allocated in this fashion:

Prime Minister and leader of the Commons, Ramsay MacDonald; lord privy seal and deputy leader, J. R. Clynes; lord president of the council, Sidney Webb; lord chancellor, Lord Parmoor; chancellor of the exchequer, Philip Snowden; secretary for foreign affairs, Arthur Ponsonby; home secretary, Arthur Henderson; secretary for Dominions, George Lansbury; secretary for India, Lord Olivier; secretary for war, Stephen Walsh; secretary for air, Josiah Wedgewood.

DRYS TO PRESS HOUSE VOTE ON PENALTY BILL

Washington, Feb. 21 (INS)—Prohibitionists today began preparations to demonstrate their overwhelming control of the House as well as the Senate by forcing passage of the drastic Jones bill, despite reluctance of House leaders.

With but nine working days left of the session, the drys announced that they would use extraordinary measures, if necessary, to force a vote on the measure, which makes the maximum penalty for violation of the Volstead act five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine.

Rep. Stalker (R) of New York, author of a bill identical with the Jones measure, said he may request Speaker Longworth to recognize him to move passage of the Jones bill under suspension of the rules.

A two-thirds vote is necessary to accomplish this, but the drys claim a voting strength in the House of approximately 320 out of the 435 members, more than the necessary number.

Rep. Tilson (R) of Connecticut, majority leader, did not take kindly to the Stalker plan.

"We should not displace other important legislation for consideration of the Jones bill at this late date," he said. "The Stalker bill providing the same penalties has been on the House calendar for nearly a year, and could have been called up by the judiciary committee. During this time no one has ever pressed to have the measure called up."

MAYBE U. S. CAN DAM RUM FLOW IN FOUR YEARS

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—Four years would be required to build up the Coast Guard to a strength that could prevent liquor smuggling, Admiral Frederick C. Billard informed the House appropriations committee in testimony made public today with the second deficiency bill.

A plan for the gradual expansion of the Coast Guard facilities has been drawn, Admiral Billard said, but in spite of persistent questioning, which led to a heated exchange between Republican and Democratic committeemen, he declined to reveal details.

Admiral Billard said he submitted the plan to the secretary of the treasury. He said it covered "additional resources for the Coast Guard, covering several years in the future, which is my judgment will meet our needs."

BORDERS SURVEYED.

Under insistent questioning the admiral said that "in order to completely stop the smuggling of liquor from the sea—in order to completely stop it—the Coast Guard resources would have to be increased."

A complete survey of the land borders of the United States is being made by the customs service to determine how many men would be needed to prevent liquor smuggling, Commissioner E. W. Camp of the bureau of customs told the committee.

The survey, Camp added, would require from three to four months. It would also seek to determine how much money the work would require.

RUM FORCES AT ODDS.

Assistant Commissioner Frank Dow reminded the committee that the service had sought 379 additional men but that still had been able to get funds for only 150.

Camp said the department was working in correct conditions that had grown out of ill-feeling between the customs officials and the prohibition agents.

More than 20 members of the border patrol have been indicted, he said.

Dr. Areadway estimated the two farms would cost between $7,500,000 and $10,000,000.

The farms were authorized in the Porter bill passed at the first session and are planned to care for narcotic addicts among federal prisoners with a view to curing them.

The treatment also would be provided other persons who applied for it.

Judge Upheld in Contempt Case

Recent action of Judge Timothy J. Ahearn of the Roxbury Court in instituting contempt proceedings against the defendant who failed to answer a summons was upheld today by Justice Crosby of the Supreme Court.

Atty. Robert Goodman had petitioned for a writ to prevent Judge Ahearn from taking contempt action against William Duffy of 6 Waverley st., Roxbury, for failure to respond to a summons to the poor debtor session.

Policeman to Jail for Girl's Death

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21 (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld conviction of Alfred K. Larsen, who, while a State policeman, pacified peace in a battle at Julland on December 21, 1926, in which Miss Beatrice Meaney was killed and her brother James wounded.

Larsen was convicted of atrocious assault and battery and sentenced to two years in prison and fined $1000.

HOOVER SPENDS A BUSY DAY IN CONFERENCE

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—President-elect Herbert Hoover conferred at length today with Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker and a close friend, who has been prominently mentioned as a Cabinet possibility.

The conversation took up most of the forenoon and continued through lunch, which was attended also by Vice-President-elect Curtis.

Mr. Hoover took time, however, to talk with Carl Vrooman of Illinois, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture in the Wilson administration, and a student of the agricultural problem.

The President-elect began the day by conferring with Senator Edge of New Jersey at breakfast.

Secretary Mellon, whose retention as head of the Treasury in the next administration is considered virtually assured, had an afternoon engagement with Mr. Hoover. Other late conferences were with Eugene Meyer, chairman of the federal farm board, and Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee.

Speaker Longworth is expected to confer with Mr. Hoover at luncheon tomorrow.

All Pierce Estate Is Left to Harvard

The entire estate of the late Edgar Pierce of 18 Erattle st., Cambridge, author, philosopher and member of the board of overseers of Harvard University, is bequethed to Harvard, under the terms of his will, which was filed for probate in Middlesex Court.

He left only the Cambridgehomestead to his wife, Mrs. Lizzie M. W. Pierce, and only his furniture, jewelry and personal effects to his son, Roger Pierce. In the will he said that his reason for not giving his son a larger share of his estate was that they are both sufficiently provided for from other sources.

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Insurance Counsel Opposes Auto Bill

The heating on automobile insurance rates was resumed by the legislative joint Committee on Insurance at the State House today, with a large crowd in attendance.

Following the endorsement of the Frank A. Goodwin-Boston Evening American petition to establish a state fund to provide compulsory insurance against loss by reason of property damage, John W. Downs, counsel for the insurance interests of the state, appeared in opposition.

Downs contended that the Goodwin-American bill would not collect enough money to pay for accidents and deaths, but Representative Clinton Whidden of Brookline interrupted to say that if 34 were added to the $16 proposed rate, it would still be less than $17.

"This bill would save money for car owners, wouldn't it?" asked Representative Walden. "Yes," Downs replied, "at the expense of other owners in Pittsfield and such, where the rate is now less than $20 on passenger cars."

Representative Moran of Mansfield then asked:

"What would you say if the people rose up and put some kind of a state law on the ballot next year?"

"I think that would be very unwise," replied Downs.

Russell Harmon, secretary of the Bancroft Club of Worcester, said his organization felt that the present law should be given a further trial.

Representative Thomas Carr of Boston asked if Harmon represented himself or the organization and Harmon said he represented the organization.

Representative Carr: "Isn't it a fact that the club has gone on record against you representing it here?" "No," was the answer.

Among those who spoke in favor of the bill, in whole, or in part were Atty. John J. Cummings of Dorchester, Rep. Joseph L. Luraa of Everett, Mayor Lawrence F. Quigley of Chelsea, Joseph H. Bonchee, president of Independent Taxi Operators' Association of Mass., H. B. Church representing the Motor Truck Club of Massachusetts; Rep. John W. MacLeod of Chelsea, Day Baker, representing Boston Commercial Vehicle Association and Massachusetts Dealers and Garage Association, Harry P. Grages, legislative agent representing Boston Central Labor Union and State branch, American Federation of Labor, and Chester I. Campbell.

All these speakers condemned the present zoning system whereby residents of Metropolitan Boston are discriminated against by being charged much higher rates than in other portions of the State. They all considered the present cost of compulsory insurance excessive. They attacked the "fake" claims thousands of which, it was said, have been settled by insurance companies, thus adding to the cost.

APPROVE BILL

Nearly all the speakers were in favor of the flat rate of $16 on passenger cars, $25 on trucks, and $50 on taxis, rental cars and busses, as provided for in the Goodwin-Boston Evening American bill.

Many agreed that the car owners of Massachusetts are "fed up" and that if relief is not granted by the Legislature this year the people will take the matter to the polls another year and collect matters by an initiative and referendum petition.

RESERVE BANK FIGURES GIVEN

RESERVE WILL HOLD SESSION

New York, Feb 21 (AP) Interest in the weekly New York Federal Reserve directors' meeting this afternoon again was intense, as last week's meeting was of record duration, lasting five hours, but brought no action or announcement. Wall Street hopes more definite light upon the Reserve system's program to bolster the credit structure may be shed after each meeting.

At present, in the 1st district (New York) there is a tight money situation due to short selling of stocks. There is a tight money situation due to the policy of the Federal Reserve banks in refusing to rediscount paper for member banks unless it is based on commercial transactions. Call money is now 8 per cent.

Action by the Federal Reserve Board on the matter for permanent relief in the past week was unavailing, with the Board in a firm mood. Discounting and Money Committee meetings were held, but no action there resulted. It is understood the 11th Federal Reserve bank was booked to lend funds of good demand collateral at 5 per cent.

The Standard Oil Company (Ind.) is now on improvements of its plant at Port Arthur, Tex.

Canada Plant Sets Record for Power

Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation, Limited, a subsidiary of International Paper and Power Company, produced 172,695,000 kilowatt hours of electric energy in January, 1929, and a new high record for a single month. The Corporation recently established a new high output for a single day by generating 6,351,000 kilowatt hours, compared with the previous record of 6,256,000 kilowatt hours made in December 1928.

The additional generating power is secured in the Farnham and Chambly hydro-electric plants of Canadian Hydro-Electric Corporation, Limited, but power is also delivered from the system of Canadian Light & Power Co. Both of these companies are now in operation and a future source of power in process of construction will have the capacity of 180,000 horsepower.

The consumption of electric energy in all parts of Canada has been increasing at a rapid rate during recent years. In the past five years the output of central electric stations has almost doubled and in the past six years it has increased 45% per cent.

Ernesto Breda Bonds on Hub Exchange

There has been admitted to Boston Stock Exchange trading the 7s of Ernesto Breda Co. $5,000,000 first mortgage 7 per cent sinking fund bonds due 1954. Bonds of record are callable on or after Aug. 1, 1929, entitling the holder to purchase 30 shares of capital stock, 150 lire par, at 160 lire per share, on or before Aug. 1, 1931, and thereafter at 180 lire on or before Feb. 1, 1934. These purchase prices are equivalent at present par of exchange to $8.42 and $9.47, respectively. Company is one of the largest manufacturers of steam locomotives, and producers of railway cars, electric locomotives and other electrical machinery and equipment in Italy.

Marland-Louisiana Merger Is Planned

Oil trade circles here had reports that negotiations have been concluded by which Marland Oil Co. will acquire Louisiana Oil Refining Corp. Details have not yet become available, but it is reliably understood representatives of the Marland Co. will shortly become directors of Louisiana Oil Refining Co.

Another step is preliminary to arranging for a meeting of Louisiana Oil Refining Corp. stockholders, at which plan of acquisition will be considered and an exchange of stock for shares in Marland Oil will be offered. Consolidation probably will be effected through Midland Securities Co. of Louisiana Oil Refining Co. stock.

More Current Used

During 1928 territory of Illinois Northern Utilities Company, subsidiary of Middle West Utilities Company, consumed 57,964,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, against 50,528,500 kilowatt hours in 1927, an increase of 14.3 per cent.

Treasurer and Receiver-General.

WOOL STOCKS ARE LOWERED, SAYS DUN'S

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Trade Review in this week's issue will say regarding trade conditions in Boston: "Sales of finished goods in the hands of the principal woolen mills have shown a decrease of about 10 per cent since last July, and stocks of the raw wool all other lines vary from normal to small amounts.

The local market is firm. During the week sales also have been rather spotty, but the mills are beginning to display more interest and all grades of wool are moving a little better. The goods market has been rather quiet. Carpet wools are more active and there is a good demand for rugs and carpets from the jobbers and retailers sales in this line being well maintained in spite of the swing in the demand towards knitwear.

Total receipts of wool in Boston to date have been 27,548,000 pounds as compared with 29,441,000 pounds for the corresponding period of last year. Cotton yarn prices are slightly lower, but orders are fewer in consequence. The demand for cotton goods is fairly active.

Although building permits anticipate a fair amount of building activity, current operations are somewhat below last year's level. Building lumber and materials are moving rather slowly, with but little change. Further reductions in manufacturers, particularly concerns selling to outside territories, are enjoying good business and are purchasing hardwood lumber freely.

The demand from the automobile trade also is well maintained. Prices are firm. The sales of cars has been very good for the season of the year, and the second hand market, though quiet, is in a healthy condition. Tire dealers report rather unsatisfactory conditions due to competition.

Production of boots and shoes in Massachusetts during 19.8 amounted to 83,310,025 pairs, or 24.2 per cent of the total. Maine produced 17,909,770 pairs, and New Hampshire 21,490,000. Massachusetts leading the leading state in the country in this line. Hides have been very slow at the low prices levels recently established.

Shoe manufacturers continue busy, but aside from some call for patent leathers the market is very dull, and sole and upper leather prices are weak.

Retail dealers still have a considerable quantity of winter footwear and rubbers on their shelves and the lack of repeat orders in these lines has caused considerable unemployment among the rubber workers in local factories. Consumption of electric power in New England showed an increase of 10.8 per cent over that of January of last year.

Cavanagh-Dobbs Buys Out Berg & Co.

Cavanagh-Dobbs, Inc., announce the acquisition of the business of F. Berg & Co., soft felt hat makers for the trade trade here and abroad since 1864, and one of the best known hat manufacturers in America, at the present time the only competitive plant to Cavanagh-Dobbs in Norwalk.

The lease was taken over with the intention of, and will result in, supplying the new plant of Cavanagh-Dobbs (now under construction) with a completely trained organization and output sufficient to start it on a profitable basis. The new plant will not be ready until August 1, but the Berg business will in the meantime be operated in its old plant under lease.

Charles F. Berg, Jr., who has been in charge of the Berg business, will henceforth be connected with Cavanagh-Dobbs.

Public Opinion Aroused on Reserve Board, Workers

By B. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, [illegible]—Public [illegible] Speculation in stocks especially the action of the Federal Reserve Board, and the treatment of workers by corporations.

Perhaps it is natural that every person who exercises [illegible] should feel angry at the Reserve Board for attempting to arrest the continuous expansion of business. In stock market operators it tends to cause [illegible] of stock boom, and the mountain absorption of available credit by brokers that would the final up shot have been? That question is avoided by those who were eager only to have the market continue to go higher until they cashed in their ready won profits.

The proper [illegible] action of the public can be deduced from the following:

One reader writes:

"In 1920 I lost a fortune of more than $100,000 because the Federal Reserve Board suddenly decided that credit used in commodities had to be contracted.

"Now hundreds of thousands of people, encouraged to buy stocks, lose their fortunes because the Federal Reserve Board suddenly raises a ruckus about the credit situation and speculation in stocks.

"It hold that the Federal Reserve Board if it is worth a pinch of salt, should see to it that such situations do not arise in the first place. But the second, if they do arise, they should have brains enough to bring about a correction gradually and without the noise and fluster that accompanies [illegible] corrections.

"These two points, it seems to me, are the kernel of the whole matter, and the Federal Reserve Board should be made to report in sackcloth and ashes for the [illegible] they have been incompetent people to lose through the unstatesmanlike policy they pursue."

This is how a lady finishes a quite vigorous attack:

"It [illegible] long ago that the best cure would be to abolish the Federal Reserve. I quite agree. It has proved a failure. Instead the authorities are unpatriotic, un-

From a New Orleans letter:

"I wonder if this country is not a bit off on the wrong angle toward prosperity, and, instead of everyone putting their shoulder to the wheel to further industry and commerce, every Tom, Dick and Harry is gambling in the New York Stock Exchange? It would appear to me that most people are finding it very difficult to make money legitimately, so have resorted [illegible] and [illegible] deprecating increases and the families of the necessaries of life, such as food, wearing apparel, etc., and the consequence is that the firm which is conducting a legitimate business, whether it be a department store or any field of endeavor which is really an institution of commerce, must suffer.

"I would like to know what food is in the New York Stock Exchange? To my mind it is another name for a modern Monte Carlo under disguise. It encourages the women, and particularly the people who work hard for their money to lose it quickly, and is absolutely the direct opposite of the word thrift."

This comes from the West:

"Congratulations on your article dealing with the 'Aged Worker Problem in Industry.' We and the wage-earning class, and I think we are greatly in the majority, don't care a d—n. If Wall Street had a new high yesterday. We are interested, however, in an earnest, straightforward presentation of the foregoing subject.

"The writer is but 52, so the prevailing custom of not hiring men over 40 has not yet hit him. However, in this age of mergers, mass production, chain store merchandising, etc., glasses are not needed in order to see the handwriting on the wall."

From Illinois:

"Workers who have given a lifetime of service are being discharged here and elsewhere by the very men who became rich and powerful through their labor. Corporations have no soul and are being by their actions, most of those who are in charge of them are no better.

"Twenty or more foreign countries, headed by Soviet Russia with Uncle Sam, pay a pension to their old-aged men and women. I cannot conceive of why the Government of the State or Federal Government could not enact laws to provide for those who are unfortunate by the fault of their own, to provide for them—[illegible]

SHOES PROFIT FIRST YEAR

Northeastern Surety Co. organized in 1927 with capital and surplus of $375,000 closed the calendar year 1928 with guaranteed assets of $1,592,841. During 1928, the company, which is one of the few to underwrite a profit in its first year of business, more than doubled surplus available for policy holders which item stood at $1,428,810 at December 31, last.

During the first quarter of 1928 the company wrote $89,339, in net premiums. For January 1929 alone, the company wrote premiums aggregating $47,115 or nearly double the amount of premiums written during January 1928 and more than one-half the total premiums written during the first quarter of that year.

The company is at present paying a dividend of 6 per cent annually on its stock which rate was established nine months after its organization. Officials of the company consider the prospects for the current year even better than those for 1928 and estimate that the company will more than double its net premium writings during 1929.

YELLOW CAB HAS CALL LOANS

K. L. Ames, Jr., president of Chicago Yellow Cab Company, in his statement to stockholders accompanying the annual report, says:

"Attention is called to the fact that at the end of 1928 the company was lending $2,500,000 in the call money market. Current assets were increased by $672,000 and current liabilities were reduced by $1,035,827, making a net addition to working capital during the year of approximately $1,728,854.

"This improvement in cash position was accomplished despite the extraordinary expenditures made by the company last year. The rigid economies effected by the benefit a substantial reduction in taxicab operating expenditures of $1,000,000 in the company's revenues, our drivers were given an increase in wages of $650,000, making their wage scale the 'highest in the company's history; and $775,000 was expended for new equipment and a new repair shop."

William Follmer Dead

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb 21 (AP) —William Follmer, one of the oldest silk manufacturers in the country, is dead. He was vice-president of the Follmer Clogg Co., New York manufacturers of silk and parachutes for the government. He was a widely known philanthropist.

WALWORTH AT BEST, SAYS COONLEY

President Howard Coonley of Walworth Co., listed in Boston and New York, says: "Nineteen twenty-eight ended with a low volume of business and prices weak. First quarter operations resulted in a considerable loss. Subsequently prices became steadier, and lower in the year better prices were obtainable. As a result we operated on a small profit during the second quarter of the year, and each succeeding quarter has yielded improved profits, such that for the entire year operations were a net profit of $413,184.89.

"The 1928 reduction of mortgage debentures and other purchase obligations of Walworth Coompany consolidated amounted to $627,909. The 1928 investment in new machinery and equipment totalled $602,420.05.

"During the year depreciation on plant and equipment was taken out, operating expense in theamount of $2,245,748.49. Part of the better profit shown in the year progressed was due to improved operations in your plants, to the addition of new lines of product, to the benefit of manufacture, and to the economies resulting from the larger amount of new machinery and equipment installed since our expansion. We do not hesitate to say that your plants and organization are in better condition than they have been at any previous time."

Walworth Co declared regular quarterly dividends of 75 cents a share on preferred and 30 cents on common, the preferred payable March 30 to stock of record March 20, and the common March 15.

Indian Refining Is to Sell Stock

Directors of Indian Refining Company have called a special meeting of stockholders for February 25 to vote on increasing authorized common stock by 275,000 shares. Of this, approximately 200,000 shares will be offered to common stockholders of record March 15 in the ratio of one new share at $21 for each four shares held.

Funds will be used to retire the remaining $1,200,000 of first mortgage 5½ per cent gold bonds and to meet the company's requirements for additional working capital due to its expanding business.

NEW ISSUE OF 40,000 SHARES

Aeronautical Industries, Inc. [illegible] its first [illegible] stated [illegible] the profit from [illegible] of [illegible] $5,811 [illegible] Jan. 31, 1929. The company announces that arrangements have been made to sell, through G. M. Murphy & Co., an additional 40,000 shares of stock. These new arrangements are being made by holders of Voting Trust Certificates for ratification.

Maj. Lester D. Gardner, president of the corporation, in a letter to holders of the Voting Trust Certificates, states that if the proposal for the sale of this stock is approved they will receive stock certificates with full voting powers in place of the Voting Trust Certificates they now hold and the Voting Trust will be terminated.

On ratification of these new arrangements new directors will be elected. The board will then include, in addition to Maj. Gardner, Louis F. Reed, W. W. Town send and Benjamin F. Castle, who have been actively associated with the corporation, James C. Wilson, E. O. McDowell, J. Cheever Cowdin, Lemuel Ely Quigg, C. Hunsaker and Otto A. Glasebrook, Jr.

The balance sheet shows that [illegible] properties, as of January 31, 1929, had invested [illegible] in aeronautical enterprises and the sum of $43,748 in cash and call loans. On these securities in the portfolio having a published market quotations, there was an appreciation as of January 31, 1929, of $137,827.

Blackwood Finds '29 Outlook Good

President Blackwood of Sullivan Machinery Co. sees signs of [illegible] depression in the coal industry reduced the sales in that [illegible] by a considerable amount. He fact that the company was able to absorb this loss of volume with but a slight reduction in earnings is a gratifying demonstration of the flexibility of its distribution to so many other markets.

"The systematic effort to lower manufacturing costs, which has resulted in a reduction of $519,631 in 1927 and a further reduction of $767,744 in 1928, a total of $1,287,000. The outlook for 1929 is very bright, as general business conditions are better than for some years."

Cabot Mfg. Co.'s Earnings Increase

Cabot Manufacturing Co reports for year ended Dec. 29, 1928, net earnings after depreciation and federal taxes of $267,072, equal to $13.39 per share on 20,000 shares of stock outstanding. These profits compare with net of $251,271 or $12.56 per share in 1927, and $137,082 or $6.85 per share in 1926.

SHOE TARIFF BATTLE OPENS AT CAPITAL

By FRANK H. MELOON,

The battle to have a protective tariff imposed on boots and shoes is under way at the national capital. Shoes have been on the free list since 1913 and imports have been growing tremendously since New England plants have been hard hit by the floods of foreign goods.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, who would be in movement into the two billion dollar merger of 10 eastern railroads, is by birth a Vermonter. He worked his way up from the bottom a lowly post. Both his railroad and the New Haven lay claim to the distinction of being the oldest carrier in the United States.

President Willard several years ago was favored as a successor to the then President Mellen of New Haven. Mr. Willard was a good locomotive engineer, and when he got to be conductor he would take the train with the same care and shilly he had shown in the cab. That was recognized by the road and so he was advanced to be trainmaster and superintendent. All this was accomplished without the backing of great wealth or political "pull." He always relied on himself.

• • •

Willard began his career in the track department of a little Vermont road. He was 18 yes. old when he graduated from the Windsor high school the year before. His next railroad job was as locomotive engineer on the Connecticut & Passumpsic road and after being four years in the cab there he got a similar job on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern road. He was advanced to be conductor of the Soo line when that was built. During his connection with the Soo he was conductor engineer, trainmaster and superintendent. In 1899 he went to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company as assistant general manager for the eastern lines. He retained that position and then received the appointment of assistant to the president of the Erie. Later on he was elected first vice-president and general manager of that system and continued a such until January 1, 1904, when he went with the Chicago Burlington & Quincy as second vice-president in charge of operation. A few years ago he was made president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad with offices at Baltimore.

Very truly yours, J. J. Cass

In the specimen under consideration, the writer inquires to see the high lights of life—not from the consideration of money and not even from the consideration of what the world calls success, but from the consideration of true achievement. On the other hand there is a lot of impatience shown. Such a writer as this is indifferent to mediocre success and to mediocre people like the ex-[illegible] and [illegible] everything hates a sham, dislikes the "almost as good" sort of thing, has some intolerance toward intolerance.

CALM AND COOL

This writer is capable of great ardor and intensity of feeling, but few people will bring about these feeling, the tendency being to be calm, cool and rather independent of close attachments. If a real attachment is experienced, then there is nothing that this writer would not do for the person involved. This intensity also adds charm and worth to the rare friendships of the writer and give sustaining qualities to any tie or partnership.

The disposition is influenced by extremely critical tendencies and by desires which can be satisfied only with the very best. The standard of money will never be applied by this writer to this matter of best, but the standard of excellence and of real quality will be. People of the temperament shown by this writer often find it a little hard to be contented with [illegible] life unless life takes them into the [illegible] way is the [illegible] where [illegible] of achievements and experience will bring [illegible] freedom to do the larger thing in [illegible]

NOTE: Send sample of your handwriting to Miss Louise Rice, noted graphologist, for analysis. Write your name and complete address on unruled paper, in ink or pencil. To cover clerical costs enclose 10c in silver or stamps. Also enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The individual analysis will be returned to you within a period of one or two weeks. Letters will not be published if sender so requests. Miss Rice has a number of letters which she cannot answer because of wrong or inadequate addresses.

DEAD MAN'S TREASURE

A New Six Day Novel...

by JOHN GOODWIN

Six-Day Novel by a Famous Author

Henderson Ker, ex-Chicago police lieutenant, is vacationing at Repps Grange, a country estate in England. Cicely Frazer, his young niece, keeps house for him and is in love with Jack Shirley, struggling young playwright of Pelaugh Arbor.

Dr. Lehgate, neighbor, and Basil Mayne, a great friend of Jack's, both propose to Cicely. Lehgate's entrance later is refused and she sees his reflection in a mirror frightens her. Jack is already married to a drunkard known as Three-Fingered Anne. Basil tells Cicely the girl offers to do all he can to help Shirley when she tells him she cannot return his love.

Anne is found to death in a garage and Cicely and Jack are married. She becomes fascinated with a legend of a hidden hoard in The Knoll, Jack's old house, which they have much difficulty in maintaining owing to lack of money. Basil scouts the idea. Meanwhile Ker goes back to America and Jack sells his play to a London manager.

On Lehgate's advice Cicely digs in the cellar following directions in an old manuscript and uncovers not the treasure but a woman's skeleton with a wedding ring on her finger. Inspector Maitland arrives with news that the woman killed in the fire was not Jack's wife after all. Cicely is stunned. The wedding ring on the skeleton shows that it belonged to Anne Shirley, whereupon Jack is arrested. Ker reappears and tries to find the mysterious writer of warning letters sent to Cicely and to the police and supposed to have been written by Charlotte Larue. She disappears. Ker is convinced Jack is innocent and tells Cicely he is going to do some investigating on his own account. He gives her his phone number.

CHAPTER 4

JUST a few days later a letter came for Cicely. Opening it, it was from Jimmie Vernon saying he had decided to produce Jack's play. How welcome it would have been a few weeks before, but now—

There was nothing for it but a trip to London to see Vernon, so Cicely wrote a hasty note to Jack and left by the first train.

How Cicely lived through the next few days of the inquest she never knew. The twelve men on the Crown's inquest reached a verdict of wilful murder against Jack.

But Ker did not despond. "It's up to us three to save Shirley," he said to Maitland and Basil.

"The murdered woman was Lalique, I intend to prove yet," challenged Maitland. "I follow that the man who murdered her exercised intense cunning, to conceal her identity and plotted himself by fixing the onus of the crime on to Shirley . . . by burying her in Shirley's house while Shirley was up north.

"They're not alike," said Ker, examining the two. "But I think I have a key to the mystery."

Five days passed and the case already complicated, was made more so by the arrival of Peter Vaughan, one of the lawyers for Jack's defense. He produced a letter which read:

"You lawyers are being fooled. It's Nance Shirley who went to the house before the fire. Before I hang a man will swing for it, and a hundred pounds reward is not enough to save him, nor a thousand. Ask Doctor Leghate of Friar's Ashe."

"From Charlotte Larue," said Vaughan, "the woman who has beaten the police again and again. This finishes poor Shirley, I'm afraid."

"Not so fast," said Ker patiently.

As soon as he was alone he called up Maitland and gave him the tip. Then he determined to go

'DANCING BARBER' NOW IN DEATH CELL

Police Fight Snow to Save Man, 70, From Gas

NEAR DEAD AS POT BOILS

Battling against time, the [illegible] police succeeded today in saving the life of John H. Bolger, 70, retired shoe manufacturer after he had been overcome by gas in his Birch st., Lynn, home.

Bolger turned off the kitchen gas after he had lighted a coffee pot on the gas stove. The coffee boiled over, putting out the flame, but the gas continued to flow.

Half an hour later the housekeeper, Mrs. Annie Murray, came downstairs and found him unconscious. She called two painters who tried vainly to revive him.

Meanwhile police had been notified and Sgt. Thomas H. and Gordon Kerr responded with the [illegible] resuscitating outfit. [illegible] outfit in surmounting the steep, slippery hill to the Bolger home.

Then, with the elderly man being fed oxygen in the back of the ambulance by the sergeant, the patrolman pushed the vehicle through the blinding blizzard for the trip to Lynn Hospital.

There, after two more tanks of oxygen had been used, Bolger was revived.

GENERAL WHO CRUSHED IRISH REVOLT DIES

Capetown, Union of South Africa, Feb. 21 (AP)—Gen. Sir John Grenfell Maxwell, 70, one of the most brilliant of England's military leaders, died today of pneumonia. He last active post was [illegible] in Ireland during the Easter rebellion.

London, Feb. 21 (AP)—Gen. Sir John Grenfell Maxwell, whose death was reported in South Africa today, was known as a resolute soldier of the old school who did his job in what he regarded as the most expeditious manner possible.

When the Easter week rebellion broke out in Ireland in 1916, the difficult situation was entrusted to Gen. Maxwell. He proceeded to muzzle it with no gloves. At the end of a week's bloody fighting [illegible] was a sorry looking [illegible] and a rich [illegible] had been [illegible] Britain's [illegible] mind in Ireland.

The feeling between some sections of the Irish and some sections of the English was very bitter at the time and there was considerable discussion in England whether Gen. Maxwell should not have been allowed a free hand while some critics maintained if he had been permitted "clean house" in Ireland it would have saved trouble later, but the general sentiment was against using strong arm methods not then absolutely necessary.

Judge Connelly Banquet Speaker

Judge Thomas H. Connelly of the Brighton court is to be the speaker of the evening at the third annual banquet of St. James' Holy Name Society in St. James' Parish Hall, Arlington Heights, tonight at 7 o'clock. Dents A. McCarthy, poet and lecturer and president of the society, will act as toastmaster. Speakers include Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, pastor of the church; Rev. James P. Sheriff, Senator Charles C. Warren, James Higgins, Nixon Waterman, George Kearns, Tom McCabe, Bob Coyne and Henry Gillen.

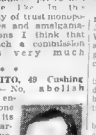
THE CURIOUS QUIZZER

Every day he asks a question and pictures those questioned.

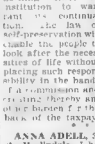
THE QUESTION

FRANK TARANTO, 16 Howes st., Malden—I do not believe in capital punishment and I want to see whether a good many other people have either. It stands to reason that if a majority of the people whom a commission represents never heard of that commission, then it cannot have been doing very good work. If a commission does not do good work it has no reason to exist. [illegible]

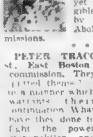
HELEN FAY, 63 Cliff st., Roxbury—Yes, as I understand it the commission was established to look after the rights of the common people, to protect them against [illegible] and [illegible] I think that such a commission is very much needed.



MICHAEL SOLITO, 49 Cushing st., Woburn — No, I do not believe the commission entirely. It has done nothing since its institution to warrant its continuance. I think the law of self-preservation will enable people to look after the necessities of life without placing such responsibility in the hands of a commission and creating thereby another burden for the backs of the taxpayer [illegible]



ANNA ADELL, 3011 Washington st., Roslindale—I have never heard of the commission but [illegible] as a matter of principle I am in favor of its continuation. I have seen commissions instituted in the state for everything, from aviation to finances and have yet to see any tangible results effected by any of them. Abolish all the commissions.



PETER TRACONI, 55 Lubec st., East Boston — Abolish the commission. They have not accomplished [illegible] but prove as a matter of principle I am in favor of its continuation. I have seen commissions instituted in the state for everything, from aviation to finances and have yet to see any tangible results effected by any of them. Abolish all the commissions.

IS IT YOUR BUSINESS —OR OURS?

Suppose the Stock Fire Insurance companies had not fostered fire prevention.

Suppose they had followed the selfish principle that, no matter how great the destruction of property, rates could be adjusted accordingly!...

What then would have been America's record of loss by fire?

Frightful enough it is—in spite of the efforts of the Stock Fire Insurance companies, working through the National Board of Fire Underwriters and its departments of Building Construction, Public Fire Protection, Engineering, the Arson Bureau, Underwriters' Laboratories, and other avenues of activity.

The reduction of the fire waste or the loss of life by fire is not primarily an insurance problem. The Stock Fire Insurance companies must charge for insurance on a basis sufficient to cover losses and operating expenses.

Therefore—viewing the situation from their selfish interests only—they need be no more concerned than are other industries in working toward a reduction of the fire waste.

However, for the welfare of the country as a whole the 229 Stock Fire Insurance companies which transact the great bulk of the fire insurance business voluntarily and took the task of heading up the forces opposed to the destruction of life and property by fire.

The results have been encouraging. People are building better. Obvious hazards are being removed. But there is pressing need for further improvement.

Future progress in this work depends largely upon the degree of cooperation extended by you and others in the use of available safety devices and measures, and in the elimination of the many known hazards which continue to threaten life and property.

TWO MEN SAVE DOG AT POND

A 60-year-old man, as yet unidentified, and a 10-year-old boy, Joseph Newton, of Fall River, both risked their lives in the dangerous ice to rescue a dog that had fallen into the water in Lough's Pond, Cunningham, a suburb of Newton, Wednesday afternoon.

Children passing the pond when the dog broke through the municipal skating area in Newton informed the man, who was walking by, of the dog's plight. He ran to the edge of the pond and, seeing the dog into an open space on the surface of the ice, broke through the ice and swam to the animal. Then, pushing the dog before him, he swam back to the edge of the pond and pulled himself out.

Sharkey Wants to Slug It Out With Stribling

By Jack Sharkey

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21.—During the past week, I have been working harder in preparation for my bout with Young Stribling than for any ring contest in my career.

I rose morning around [illegible]

After breakfast I [illegible]

[illegible]

AFTER a long layoff, such as I [illegible] like to feel that I [illegible] I am ready for [illegible]

STRIBLING on the other hand, [illegible]

I have noted with considerable [illegible] that Stribling says he is going to knock me out. I hope he [illegible] not talking merely for the purpose of publicity when he says he will open up and let his punches fly.

I have only one fear in regard to [illegible] and that is that Stribling will do a lot of running and [illegible] of the news I [illegible] has at times described Stribling as [illegible] with a thousand [illegible]

PROVIDED Stribling loses heart and hasn't [illegible] he will close up the fight. But if he does as he says he will, and makes a fight out of it, the fans will get plenty of action.

I shall then stand toe to toe with Stribling and I feel that in any exchange of blows that I shall get the best of things. I was talking about the coming fight the other day with Jack Dempsey.

"I know you will make a fight out of it," said the former champion, "but I shall never forget the way you came rooting out of your corner in the first bout I had with me in New York."

You called me a rube on the button with almost the first punch I sent you all over and took over the ring before I got my bearings. You also had me in bad shape in the second round. I then found myself and came on to win.

You have a chance of knocking out any fighter in the world, whom you like, you did me. This boy Stribling is also quite a socker. I'll get a real thrill if you fellows get clever boxing and make it a stand up fight.

I won't have to be in there taking any of the punches either, but shall be down front in a ringside [illegible]

WILLIAMS IS THE FIRST TO EQUAL EATON'S MARK

By JOE CASHMAN

Percy Williams, British Columbia sprint star, did what the experts for years had declared to be impossible when he ran 40 yards in Detroit yesterday evening in 4.25 seconds, equaling the world's record for the distance held by Ira Eaton in the U. S. Mechanics Building, Detroit.

Leach Cross No Longer a Bankrupt

Leach Cross, formerly a well known figure in the prize ring, and whose real name is Louis Wallach, was discharged from bankruptcy yesterday by Federal Judge Julian W. Mack upon motion of his attorney, Sidney Pertig.

Dr. Wallach practices dentistry at 920 E. 163rd st. the Bronx.

When he filed his bankruptcy petition on October 5 1928 liabilities totaled $23,366 against assets which consisted of clothing and professional instruments exempt by law from seizure.

Cross was said to have lost money through investment in hotel enterprises on the Pacific coast.

Lassman May Yet Realize Dream

New York, Feb. 21 (INS)—Al Lassman may yet realize his dream of becoming world's heavyweight boxing champion, according to A. Higgins, close friend of the New York University gridiron star. The 195 pound Higgins has just returned from Miami Beach Fla. where Lassman is recuperating from injuries received in the Carnegie Tech N. Y. U. game three months ago.

He said that "F. N." is recovering rapidly from injuries to his head and left hand, and is shadow boxing daily.

CORN OYSTERS

To a cup of canned corn add 1 tbsp. butter, 1 tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper and 1 tbsp. flour mixed with ½ tsp. baking powder. Add 1 beaten egg yolk and fold in 1 stiffly beaten egg white. Drop by small spoonfuls into hot fat (375 deg. to 390 deg. F.) and fry to a golden brown. Drain well. Makes about 20 small oysters. Choose a solid pack of corn.

CREAM OF CORN AND TOMATO SOUP

Make a white sauce of 3 tbsp. butter, 3 tbsp. flour and 3 c. milk. Stew 2 c. of canned corn with 1½ c. canned tomatoes for about 15 minutes, then press through sieve and add to white sauce. Season with salt and pepper and serve with [illegible]

INDIAN CORN

Dice 1 green pepper and saute in 2 tbsp. butter until a golden brown. Cut the Vienna sausages from a 4½ oz. can in slices, add to pan and saute a few minutes more. Add contents of a No. 2 c. of corn, 1 tsp. salt, ½ tsp. pepper, ½ c. of milk and 2 slightly beaten eggs; pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven.

CORN AND SALMON PUDDING

Mix contents of a No. 3 c. of corn, 1 tbsp. melted butter, ½ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. pepper, 1 c. salmon and 1 tbsp. heavy cream or evaporated milk. Bake in a buttered baking dish in a moderate oven (300 deg. F.) for 30 minutes.

CORN AND LIMA BEAN SUCCOTASH

Combine contents of a can of corn and 2/3 of a can of lima beans, 2 tbsp. butter, salt and pepper, and heat.

CORN CAKES

Beat 2 eggs well, add ½ c. sour milk, ½ tsp. soda and 1 c. of canned corn. Sift together 1 c. flour, ½ tsp. salt, 2 tsp. baking powder, and add, stir in 1 tbsp. melted butter. Fry in small cakes on a hot griddle. Serve with pork sausage and gravy or with maple syrup.

Meanwhile, in New York, Felicia's husband, Alexander Brett, aged and cruel retired statesman, tells Felicia's mother, Adrienne Henley-Martin that he will force his wife to return home without scandal. She asks him what he plans to do

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER 4

BRETT was again himself, suave, gracious, contained. Watching him with troubled eyes, waiting for him to speak, Felicia's mother could see no traces of the trembling, furious old man of a moment before.

"I am sure that it will not be necessary for me to do anything harsh, my dear," he assured her.

Mrs. Henley-Martin bit her lip. Anything harsh! What did [illegible] mean? What was in his mind? For the seven years of her daughter's marriage Adrienne Henley-[illegible] had admired her son-in-law [illegible] at last, that she might not have been right when she made this match.

"Felicia will return with me and there will be no gossip, no breath of scandal," said Brett, positively.

But in Nevada, Felicia flung out her arms toward the mountains.

"Oh, I'm so happy!" she cried, turning her shining eyes upon Ann Hodge, sympathetic face. "I [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

A Busy Day With the Adair Fire Boys

(Adair County, Iowa News.)

The fire was just getting nicely started and the alarm turned in but on account of the chemical tanks being frozen up and the firehose were unable to get it, a string of hose was laid from the hydrant next to the station, but when the water was turned on it was found the hose was also frozen and it was a long time before water could be forced through it. A second string of hose was laid from the Presbyterian Church corner, but this hose was also frozen up, and then a third string was laid from the Presbyterian Church, which was in fairly good shape except one section, and when this was removed there was plenty of water, but the building was practically burned to the ground.

The fire started from a pan of grease catching fire on the gas stove. Mr. Lally had gone into the lunch room to make a sandwich for a customer, and just after he lit the gas stove a car drove up to the filling station and he set the pan of grease on the stove to get hot while he was waiting on the customar at the station.

He had only been there a few moments when the gas tank on the stove exploded. What happened after this is told of above.

BALLAD

Charged with shooting his roommate, Astaluba Hoke, teamster, is in jail, and Oscar Wier is near death in the receiving hospital. Hoke had purchased a new pair of yellow shoes. Yesterday morning he found them filled with water—and accused Wier of the prank. Hoke grew sullen, seized a gun, and shot his friend in the abdomen.—News Item.

Listen, mister, if you wants hear
The sad, sad story of Oscar Wier.
He tried for to play a whimsical joke
On his fellow worker, Astaluba Hoke.
Astaluba took a gatling gun
And rang down the curtain on Oscar's fun.
And surely there's a moral in this hullabaloo,
Never pour water in a teamster's shoe.

BAER FACTS

BILL BERRYMAN SCOTT of Princeton University knocks the good old days for a twister.

Prof. Scott is 71 years in alphabetical rotation. When he started teaching education was so young in America that Bill addressed his classes in a tree.

The professor has been on the rostrum for 48 years.

The sophomore of today is much, much advanced and civilized, likes music, has ambidextrous thumbs and is interested in intellectual scrumbles on the detours of knowledge.

Maybe the professor is right. We have a leather diploma from the professor's grandfather.

A leather diploma indicates that you graduated on the end of a bond.

But we must disagree with his opus. The only type of sophomore we seem to meet is the college man who looks like an invalid in a raccoon sanitarium.

He may be an improvement on Phil King and the old Princeton football stars who grew their raccoon coats on top of their heads.

The old-time Princeton football teams were fair and square opponents. They grew long, wooly hair. Now the Princeton teams shave their heads so that nobody can get a good grip.

The professor points out that modern students no longer steal front gates or drag the farmer's cow up into the belfry of the church.

We would like to meet him at the next Princeton reunion when the Class of 1928 shows up with the orange juice and the Class of 1879 brings the gin

Make system alkaline to ...Stop Colds QUICK!

Get Rid of Colds Before They Weaken You, Make You Liable to More Serious Troubles.

Nowadays it's important to stop your cold quick before it weakens your resistance to more serious trouble.

Any of the older treatments will bring relief—after a time. But thousands say this new way is the quickest of any.

Begin when you feel a cold coming. Take a tablespoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water, morning, noon, and night, the first day. Do same the second day. Then only at night. Colds reduce the alkaline balance of your system. That makes you feel achy, feverish, weak. Phillips Milk of Magnesia relieves this, and restores the alkaline balance.

Doctors prescribe Phillips Milk of Magnesia; hospitals use it. Millions know how it relieves sour stomachs, gas, indigestion, constipation and other symptoms of too much acid. Get the genuine.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Rudoy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 10c, 30c and 60c.

Here's the Way to Heal Rupture

A Marvelous Self-Home-Treatment That Anyone Can Use on Any Rupture, Large or Small

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY

There is no longer any doubt but what the plan used by Capt. Collings is the only way to completely heal a rupture without any operation. If you are ruptured, no matter how bad or how long, send your name and address to Capt. W. A. Collings Inc. 4841 Collings Bldg. Watertown, N. Y., and try this wonderful invention that heals them all the worst (no ruptures too) ever heard of. He threw away his trusses, never had to wear it again. His two large rupture that had kept him indoors for years were both held naturally by his own muscles without support of any kind. It was a marvelous cure of rupture, and you can have a free trial of his wonderful home treatment by merely sending name and address, no charge whatever. You'll fail to send for this free test. It is entirely prepared.

LEGAL NOTICES

IN COMPLIANCE WITH THE PROVISIONS AS STATED IN ARTICLE FOURTEENTH OF THE WILL OF THE LATE GEORGE ROBERT WHITE—VIZ:

ARTICLE FOURTEENTH: Whereas my sister Mary P. Sullivan has died, and I have otherwise provided for my sister Harriet J. Bradbury, I do now carry out by this codicil my purpose to give, devise and bequeath the property which I have therefor to remainder, and I do now give all the rest and residue of my property of every nature in the City of Boston, the income thereof to be paid as hereinafter stated, to be known as the George Robert White Fund, and the net income only to be used for charitable works of public usefulness and for the public enjoyment of the inhabitants of the City of Boston. It is my intention that no part of said income, however, shall be used for a system of taxation or otherwise for the purpose of relieving from the duty of the City in the ordinary course of events to provide.

The control and management of the property and disbursement of the income shall be in the hands of a board of five trustees to consist of the Mayor, who shall be its chairman, the President of the Common Council, the Chairman of the Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the President of the Bar Association of the City of Boston, if any of said officials shall refuse to serve in connection with the trust or the declination or resignation of any one or more of the persons holding them for the time being a vacancy shall be created in the board of trustees, which shall be filled by the remaining members of the board, by the election of the persons whose respective offices are mentioned, who shall thereupon become trustees hereunder. As this is a public charitable gift to the City of Boston, it is my intention that the City shall have all of the rights of a donor to see that the trust is properly administered, and a majority of the board of trustees charged with the management.

The business and accounts of the trust transacted through the regular departments of the City, viz. the treasurer, Auditor, Corporation Counsel, also, and a suitable office or offices for the use of the trustees shall be provided for them in the building of the City Hall or elsewhere, in which shall be kept all books and records of every nature relating to the management of the trust, which shall at least annually be audited by a business house for the reasonable inspection of citizens, so that all who may desire may have full knowledge of the management of the trust. Any of the income that may not be called by the remaining members of the board, by the election of the persons whose respective offices are mentioned, shall be invested and reinvested from time to time as therewith

Mrs. Jones' Bus Line

And Mrs. Jones' Three Fine Daughters

THIS IS MRS. JONES. YOU COULDN'T KEEP HER DOWN IN THE WORLD

Mrs. Jones lives in Texas; that explains half of her story.

Texas women inherit energy that enables them to do what must be done.

Eighteen years ago Mr. Jones died, leaving his young wife with three little girls, the oldest six years of age. Mrs. Jones found herself in a small rented house, with one cow, and no prospects. But Mrs. Jones had courage, and that makes prospects unnecessary.

She moved into a cheaper house. She arranged credit at a feed store so that she could feed her cow; she milked it, made butter, sold it herself, and sewed for the neighbors between times.

She managed to keep her children well fed, warmly clothed. That made them happy. And now they make her happy.

She is able to rest, while her three daughters drive motor buses, carry passengers, change their own tires when they need to, usually, of course, with the help of some broad-shouldered Texan, delighted to give a hand to a Texas girl, earning a living for her mother and herself.

The story of Mrs. Jones' progress will interest many other American mothers in and out of Texas. This is how Senator Capper tells about it in his Capper's Weekly:

"The dairy business grew and soon 'Mother' Jones, as she is known, bought another cow, then another and another until she had a herd of eight. By 1922 she had paid for her home, had money in the bank and was putting her girls through high school.

"About this time the school at Freemont burned down and all the children were forced to attend another school ten miles away. While other parents pondered over the transportation problem, Mrs. Jones bought a small truck, had the blacksmith build a crude bus body on it and announced she was ready to take all the children to and from school for a small fee. It required four trips daily to transport the youngsters to their classes and return them.

"After all three girls had graduated 'Mother' Jones decided to enlarge her bus business. An increasing number of Freemont's people, employed in Dallas several miles away, going to and from their work on trains at inconvenient hours gave her the idea. She bought another second-hand bus in 1924 and made morning and evening trips to and from Dallas. This venture also prospered.

"Now if you want to ride from Dallas to Freemont you will find three buses running each way daily, each one efficiently driven by a Jones girl—Frances, 24; Mary, 22; or Grace, 20. And what's more—all of them fix their own punctures and make minor repair jobs en route.

"Mother Jones' is taking it easier as 'general manager' of the 'Jones Bus Line.'

Where there is a will there is a way, if you have it in you. Mother Jones, boss of the only girl-driven bus line, HAD the will, and FOUND the way.

She might have "gone into stocks" or made a million in real estate. She didn't do that, but she did accept and carry the load that Providence put upon her shoulders. She did raise and educate her daughters, making good, industrious girls of them. Now she enjoys a comfortable life and a happy pride that only mothers know.

And the three Texans that manage to persuade the three Jones girls to marry them will be three lucky Texans.

William Cullen Bryant Kemp, dead at seventy-eight, had been a student at Columbia College for sixty years.

He took his first degree sixty years ago, and has taken a dozen more since.

Interesting but not in the least important. The world is interested in what you DO with your education, not in how much you absorb. Merely absorbing is a job for a sponge.

Good Food Is Medicine

The Wrong Kind Is Poison

Johns Hopkins University will teach young doctors something about cooking. At present the average doctor knows as much about food, how it should be prepared and administered, as the average cook knows about surgery.

This applies especially to many surgeons that will perform a major operation and let some nurse decide what the patient shall eat afterward.

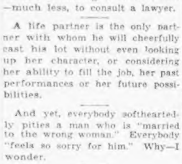
Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

THE marriage contract is the only contract a man will sign without bothering to read it over—much less, to consult a lawyer.

A life partner is the only partner with whom he will cheerfully cast his lot without even looking up her character, or considering her ability to fill the job, her past performances or her future possibilities.

And yet, everybody softheartedly pities a man who is "married to the wrong woman." Everybody "feels so sorry for him." Why—I wonder.



A husband is a matter of chance or luck—just one of the wedding presents; something that happens to you, like an inheritance or a spring cold. But a wife is a man's own fault.

A woman can't "pick out" a husband from a vast and varied assortment. She can only pick over what's offered and take the best of the lot. But a man can flit about the world, from one rosebud garden of girls to another, until he finds somewhere among the thousand specimens and samples, the One Woman who will fit into his life and make him happy.

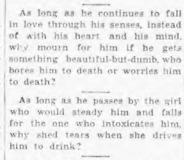
If he closes his ears and picks her out entirely "by eye"—for the shape of her nose or the dimples in her knees—why pity him, because she turns out to a gold-digger or a dancing toy or a dumbbell with one brain cell and a vanity complex?

If he insists on marrying a woman, simply because she amuses him and flatters him, why feel sorry for him when she refuses to cook for him or run a vacuum cleaner for him?

As long as he continues to fall in love through his senses, instead of with his heart and his mind, why mourn for him if he gets something beautiful-but-dumb, who bores him to death or worries him to death?

As long as he passes by the girl who would steady him and falls for the one who intoxicates him, why shed tears when she drives him to drink?

As long as he passes up the girl who admires and inspires him, in order to dance after some airy-fairy little temporary diversion who ties him to her chariot wheel, why weep for him, when he is "misunderstood?"



"If he had had the RIGHT kind of WIFE he would never have gone the pace, forged the check, played the races or gotten tangled up with the other woman!" says the world.

Of course, he wouldn't! And if he hadn't eaten the lobster or the mushrooms, he never would have had the indigestion. If he had not taken the cocktails he never would have had the headache. Sweet applesauce!

In the game of love a man holds ALL the winning cards. If he plays them with his eyes shut, when his life's happiness is at stake, what he needs is not pity, but an alienist! Save your pity for the "innocent bystander" whom he happened to marry!

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I HAD a tooth pulled the other day.

You know how it is—for six months I'd backed and filled and heed and hawed and teetered around making alibis and excuses. Then finally I got up enough courage to leap into the office and get the darned thing yanked.

He's a right smart young dentist and he has a grand, nifty office with every conceivable modern dofunny for dental architecture. But somehow none of it comforted me as I watched those demon forceps coming nearer and nearer—

I forgot the glistening array of white enamel—

The shining silver instruments—

The glittering crystal—

The gobs and gobs of scientific atmosphere—

It was a great setting, but none of it registered in that awful moment—

With one despairing gasp I passed it all up—

And reached out and grabbed the nurse's hand.

And that helped!

Now I had never seen that nurse before—

And she was in no way an unusual nurse. She was just a pretty, pleasant girl with a regular size hand. Generally speaking, that hand would have meant nothing to me. I am not given to hand-holding. In fact, I am rather snooty on the subject. I don't believe people should go around hanging onto each other. And I'm quite a little proud of my ability to manage my affairs unaided.

Yet at that moment the touch of her warm, friendly little hand meant more to me than all my smarty theories or that ritzy dental paraphernalia.

I've done a lot of thinking since I had that tooth pulled—and, I am, I trust, much humbler and wiser—for I have discovered a great secret.

I have discovered the secret of the fundamental human need.

We talk an awful lot about human nature these days.

We read and write such ponderous tomes on the adjustment of human behavior.

We outline disciplines and deliver sermons and make experiments for regulating our fellow man.

And all the time, there's just one thing our fellow man really needs.

There's just one thing that will comfort him in sorrow, or strengthen him in weakness or best him in viciousness.

And that's kindness—common human kindness.

You may flash your glittering battery of science and art.

You may envelop him in psychology and anesthetize him with philosophy.

But the only thing that will keep him when fate is yanking away the underpinning of his soul is the touch of a friendly hand.

Can't Stick to Facts

By LUCY LOWELL

JUST have come from a little visit with my friend, the Woman Who Exaggerates, and as usual, I am amused and bewildered by the curious little way she has of telling what is not quite true.

Not that she would lie even to the extent of a very small, very white fib in the way of deliberately stating something was one thing when she knew it to be another.

But a quirk in her nature prevents this friend of mine being accurate; I do not know whether she ever suspects this herself or not, but certainly it is unconscious for the most part just as might be some slight characteristic error of grammar or a way of swinging the arm when walking.

A single object is never that to her; it is always "two or three." And a medium-sized article is never anything but huge just as a large article is "gigantic."

This woman is fond of dogs and she used to tell me of the one which played with her when she was a child. This was a large animal in her first two or three stories of him; later on, as her memories of him warmed and glowed, he seemed to grow. And by what was about the sixth little tale of this wonderful dog I had decided he was at least a mastiff and perhaps one of those rare creatures, an Irish Wolfhound, the only dog I could think of which seemed big enough to fit in with all the remembered of him.

I inquired about this the next time the subject came up. "Your dog must have been a huge animal" I said. "What breed was he?"

"Oh—a water spaniel," she replied, not in the least confused.

And so she is. Why does she exaggerate?

Why do many exaggerate? Is it merely habit? Or a strange twist in viewpoint?

Easy to overcome, this tendency to exaggeration, if faced honestly.

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

Reading is to the mind what exercise is to the body. As by one, health is preserved, strengthened and invigorated, by the other, virtue (which is the health of the mind) is kept alive, cherished and confirmed. —Addison.

Every evil in the bud is easily crushed; as it grows older it becomes stronger. —Cicero.

He is not worthy of the honeycomb that shuns the hives because the bees have stings. —Shakespeare.

Was there anything real ever gained without a sacrifice of some kind? —Helps.

Is not this a lamentable thing, that of a skin of an innocent lamb should be made parchment? that parchment, being scribbled over, should undo a man.—Shakespeare.

New York Day by Day

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—There are at least a dozen Mephistopholean worldlings in New York whose careers are devoted to marrying young and rich girls who—if they study their tabloids—should know better. The Romeos are middle-aged roues with the glamour of many successful conquests.

They are well educated and generally have a small allowance from an entailed estate, which they balloon into proportions of millions despite the army of creditors continually camping on the doorstep. They are gleaners along the society trail from Palm Beach to the Riviera and back again.

Most of them pose as artists or writers, but with small standing in either field. Outside of their technique in amatory affairs, they are proficient only in sartorial smartness, smoking cigarettes and punishing cocktails. And are a perfect pattern of the small town notion of a city slicker.

They have married four or five times before they reach 30, but are always ready for another paying romp to the altar. Their wives are invariably the vibrant and beautiful creatures upholstered in the select and fashionable finishing schools here and in Europe.

And the gallants with hand-kissing manners make the average clean living young fellow trying to get a toehold in the world appear as awkward as a clod-hopper. Every moment they are at their polished best. Love making is not a romance, but a business.

For a time after matrimony they become the most abject of husbandly slaves—the careful chair fixers, daily orchid providers, with all the other well-bred gestures of their sinister roles. In this manner they manage to get a grip on the wifely bankroll.

Then they begin their philandering until the complications force the victims to parental shelter and the usual Reno-ration. But somehow their cast-off wives always remain their friends—slipping them a check now and then. The disillusionment does not make them forget they were "wonderful lovers."

FOOD prices continue their Brodie. Two restaurants on Fifth ave. now offer plate dinners at 50 cents.

WALKING along the Bowery the other evening, a band of Salvationists was singing hymns a few steps from what was once the most terrible dive in America—McGurk's Suicide Hall. In the halcyon days it was a lager beer and concert parlor whither lost and forlorn ladies crept to pour carbolic acid in their beer and fall to the floor with faces wreathed in sardonic and agonizing grins. Suicide Hall had a record of 27 suicides among its soiled sisterhood. It also had a bouncer who was one of the most ferocious gangsters the East Side ever bred—"Eat-Em-Up" Jack McManus, who could snip off an ear with a single iron-jawed clip. But, like the rest of his clan, he died as he lived, by the gun.

IT is a dramatic story bruited about the Tenderloin. She was a sacrificial figure in a famous murder trial. Not long ago in her cups she met a reporter who had covered the miserable ordeal she suffered. She beckoned him to her table. "Listen," she said, "I have always wanted to tell you that out of my terribly misspent life the thing I have regretted most is that as a witness I had to slander the memory of the only man in the world who ever treated me as a gentleman."

THE latest in wrist watches is a half-dollar size and almost as thin, which does not have to be wound. It is guaranteed for eight years and is kept perpetually ticking by the movement of the wearer's arm. It is a set-back to those of us who fell heir to a snap hunting case watch with a winder as big as the front door key to a boarding house.

DURING formative years in the city, I carried a watch with the winder dangling to the chain. Invariably it inspired those sinister giggles suggesting pantaloons had slipped their moorings or something. There are two things you have to give up in the city—the hunting case watch and long underwear.

AND a Madison ave. haberdasher is showing underwear for gentlemen in pink and lavender tints with cut out monograms at the hip. O, ginger cookies!

Marvels of Motion

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

"I can readily understand that the earth rotates; but, if so, why do the 'heavier-than-air' flying machines when in mid-air rotate with it? asks the friction of the atmosphere, which travels with the earth, is not so great as to overcome the force of inertia and thus keep the machine traveling at the same rate as the earth (1500 feet per second. I am sure an explanation would be appreciated by your amateur-science readers."—Wm. L. Dejon."

THERE is in this question a very common error. Many people will persist in thinking that a flying machine must cast off all connection with the earth when it mounts up into the air. The fact is that the machine remains effectively a part of the earth when it is in the air, just as much as when it is on the ground. The atmosphere rotates together with the solid globe on which it rests, and whatever is in the air rotates along with the air. It is not the air that pushes the flying machine onward in the direction of the earth's rotation, but it is the very thing you speak of, the inertia of the machine itself.

Before the machine rises from the ground it is traveling round with the surface of the earth, just as it is after it leaves it. When it goes up into the air it retains the inertia of the motion which it partook with the earth when it was on the ground. The air, having the same motion of rotation, does not oppose the inertial motion of the machine, which rests in it like a cork in a current of water. Both atmosphere and machine possessing the same rotational motion as that of the earth, there is no disturbance of that relation when the machine quits the earth and gets up into the atmosphere.

If the machine could rise high enough for the difference between the linear speed of the rotating atmosphere at a great height and the speed at the earth surface to become apparent, then, only, the atmosphere would tend to hasten the machine onward in the direction of the earth's rotation. But there are so many internal motions in the atmosphere—winds and currents—that these principles are not everywhere and always directly applicable. If the machine could shoot up through the atmosphere, it would still retain the inertia derived from its original rotation with the earth.

If it started from the equator and went immediately as far away as the moon without any loss of inertia, it would tend to revolve as a satellite around the earth. But its velocity would be considerably less than half the velocity of the moon in her orbit (1500 against 3500 feet per second), and this would be insufficient to enable it to keep going around the earth in orbit. Gravity would bring it back to ground in a spiral track with the same west-to-east motion that it had in common with the earth's surface before it started on its record-breaking flight.

We must not forget, however, that no flying machine could get above the atmosphere, unless it was impelled on the principle of the rocket, which, contrary to a common notion, doesn't need air to push against.

Boston American's Policies For Boston-New England

FOR BOSTON:

1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land, in order that Boston properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

FOR NEW ENGLAND:

1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.
3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.
